Town Manager Presents A $36 M Hold-The-Line Budget

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony has recommended to the Board of Selectmen a $36.35 million, "hold-the-line" budget for fiscal 1986, representing an 8.6 percent increase over Andover's fiscal 1985 total budget.

The manager's proposed total budget, submitted to the selectmen last Friday, includes an increase of nearly $3 million over the town's fiscal '85 budget, which totals $33.48 million.

The fiscal '86 budget, which must be approved by annual town meeting, includes an operating budget of $11.89 million on the town side, while the school department will work with an operating budget of $15.94 million.

The funds available for town and school operating budgets are $27.83 million, after expenses shared by both are subtracted from the $36.35 million total budget. (Those shared expenses include, for example, the town retirement fund at $1.4 million, the county assessment at $670,000, gross debt service at $5.5 million, and building maintenance at $1.5 million.)

In his budget message, dated Jan. 18, Mahony writes that the fiscal 1986 budget would be Andover's last "hold-the-line" budget — that is, if the town does in fact "reap extensive benefit" from development in West Andover, as he predicts in his message. In the next budget year, fiscal 1987, Mahony says, the town will see more than half a million square feet of industrial construction added to the tax rolls, Mahony writes, along with new downtown development such as the Andover Savings Bank expansion.

As a result, "We can expect to see our growth revenue significantly higher than it has ever been before," he promises — and those increased revenues will spell an end to Andover's tight-fisted budgets of the last five or six years.

The current budget proposal, however, remains in a "hold-the-line" mode, the manager reports. One of the few departments that will see significant funding increases is the Public Safety department, he notes.

Mahony has recommended a total appropriation of $4.4 million for the Police and Fire departments, up from the fiscal 1985 total of $3.9 million. Part of that increase will pay for four new full-time firefighters and five new police officers, the manager writes.

The Public Works department budget will also increase, from the current $3.6 million to $4.2 million. That figure reflects, in part, a more ambitious street resurfacing program, the manager writes.

"As yet unclear," he adds, is how much it will cost Andover to start bringing its solid waste to the North Andover waste treatment plant scheduled to open July 1 — and that is a "major concern" in the DPW budget, Mahony writes.

Other fiscal '86 increases will come from new contracts to be negotiated with police, fire, DPW and "white collar" bargaining units; the teachers' contract will expire at the close of the fiscal year as well.

The six-percent salary increases included in those employee contracts, coupled with step increases, will mean a net 8.5 percent increase in the fiscal 1986 budget, the manager says.

On the plus side, Andover will take in revenues adding up to nearly $39 million, according to the manager's budget analysis. Of this grand total, $25.8 million will come from property taxes, $5.4 million from state aid, and $5.1 million from local revenues (motor vehicle excise, taxes, fines and fees, for example), among other sources.

Expenses totalling $11.12 million to be subtracted from the grand total include, for instance, the town retirement fund, insurance and unemployment compensation, the county assessment, and appropriations for the vocational school ($33,025) and regional library system ($188,872).

When total expenses are subtracted from the grand total revenues, $27.83 million is left for the town and school operating budgets.

Nab Three In Break

Three Melrose men were arrested early Wednesday morning and have been charged with breaking into the Rose Glen Ice Cream shop by Andover Police.

It was 12:26 a.m. when police got the call from Rose Glen owner Douglas Adams that he suspected a break at his Andover Street business, said Andover Police Sgt. Phil Froburg.

At 1:15 a.m. Andover officers William MacKenzie and Dennis Lane arrested Richard L. Stapleford Jr., 18, Thomas C. Fiedler, 18, and Thomas A. Brown, 19, all of Melrose. The three were arraigned in Lawrence District Court yesterday and charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime and larceny, in addition Brown was charged with possession of marijuana.

Froburg wasn't sure where the men were arrested or whether they had stolen anything. Officers MacKenzie and Lane were at court yesterday and couldn't be reached by THE TOWNSMAN before the paper's deadline.

Shawsheen Condo Man Under Fire

By Sue Aucella Deacon

It seemed a bold decision last year when 1984 annual town meeting voted to allow a 29-unit condominium complex on Poor Street, with the support of town officials and Shawsheen Village neighbors.

But those luxury condos have yet to materialize, because the developers have failed to convince Andover planning officials that they will in fact build the type of complex that voters approved nearly a year ago.

One Planning Board member maintains that the developer, McNeil and Associates of Westwood, is planning to build what would amount to single-family homes on the Poor Street site — in the guise of condominiums.

And Shawsheen residents, for their part, have had a change of heart about the whole idea. They will ask 1985 town meeting to undo last year's town meeting vote, by rezoning the 12.5-acre Poor Street parcel back to Single Residence A — its original zoning before 1984 town meeting made it an Apartment zone.

The developers withdrew their plans from Zoning Board of Appeals review last month, when rejection of their proposal seemed imminent. The planning board had already indicated that they

Winnick In Honor Society

Jay B. Winnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Winnick, 34 Kathleen Drive, Andover, was among 25 students recently tapped into Golden Chain, an honorary society at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Winnick, a senior, is an acting and directing major.

Juniors and seniors who exemplify qualities of leadership, scholarship and service are eligible for nomination to Golden Chain.

The purpose of the society is to recognize students leaders who have attained a high academic average while serving the university community. Nominations may be made by students, faculty and staff. Current members then select new members from nominations. Golden Chain was founded in 1948.

He is president of the Masqueraders Theater Organization and Pi Kappa Phi fraternity. He is a 1981 graduate of Andover High School.

Choral Group Seeks Members

The North Parrish Choral Society, a community-based chorus dedicated to singing classical and contemporary choral works, welcomes new members. Rehearsals are held Wednesdays 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Sanborn School, Lovejoy Road, Andover. No auditions are required. For more information, contact Sheldon Gilbert in North Andover.

Open House Sunday For Collaborative

An open house and dedication of the newly renovated and equipped pe-vocational training classroom of the Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative at Andover High School will be held Sunday, Jan. 27, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The renovation and equipping of the classroom is the result of a community service project of members of the Merrimack Valley Works Chapter, No. 78, Telephone Pioneers of America, and incurred no public expense. It is already proving to be of great value in helping the developmentally delayed adolescents and young adults enrolled in the collaborative's classes to attain the goal of employability toward which they are striving.

The open house will include a tour of the facility, audio-visual and other exhibits and refreshments for invited guests from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. The public is invited at 3 p.m. for the dedication ceremony scheduled for 3:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

In the event of severely inclement weather, the ceremonies will take place on the following Sunday, Feb. 3, at the same time.

Minkinen To Perform At ULowell

A concert of 16th century English consort music will be presented by members of the Renaissance instrumental ensemble, "Goode Companie," in the Recital Hall of Durgin Hall at Lowell University on Wednesday, Jan. 30, at 7:30 p.m.

This is the first in a new series of concerts sponsored by the university featuring ULowell alumni. Allan Minkinen, Andover public school music teacher, performs on lute and bandora in this ensemble which also employs other authentic Renaissance style instruments, cittern, viola da gamba, recorder, bass lute, flute and violin. The concert will also feature soprano vocalist Laurel Brown.

Town House Topics

Hearing On Parking Tuesday

The Planning Board will devote an entire meeting next week to a public hearing on their proposed amendment to the town's parking bylaw.

The hearing is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 29, in the third-floor conference room at town offices on Bartlet Street. As of this week, no other business is included on the agenda for the meeting.

The planners' proposed amendments to the parking sections in the zoning bylaw appear on the warrant for annual town meeting, which convenes April 1.

If a two-thirds majority of town meeting voters approve the board's recommendations, the town's parking requirements will become more stringent — and, the planning board believes, Andover will take a large step toward solving its downtown parking problems.

Evening Classes Parking Reminder

All students enrolled in the Department of Community Services evening classes and programs should be aware that parking will not be allowed in any of the driveways leading up to Andover High School, West Junior High School and Doherty Junior High School. Students must park in the parking lots provided. Any cars found parked in the driveways will be ticketed and/or towed per order of the police department.

Licenses' Permits Approved

Clown Town, Art-in-the-Park and a "marathon" were among the coming attractions approved by the Board of Selectmen Monday night, during a regular meeting at town offices on Bartlet Street.

The selectmen voted to approve the closing of Whittier Court from Chestnut Street to the town parking lot from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday, May 18, for Clown Town, the Andona Society's annual children's fair.

Other events approved by the board were Art-in-the-Park, sponsored by the Andover Artists' Guild, to be held in Central Park from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 14 (with rain dates of Sept. 15, 21 and 22); and a two-mile "marathon" fun run at South School, to begin at 1 p.m. Sunday, May 19. The race will be conducted by the South School PTO.

Also Monday night, the board granted Bay State Gas Company retroactive permission to excavate in Poor and William streets, where the company made emergency repairs last month.

And, acting as sewer commissioners, the selectmen approved a sanitary sewer connection for an addition to Academy Manor Nursing Home on Morton Street.

High School Parents To Meet

Andover High School Parents will meet tonight at 7 p.m. at the high school library annex. The meeting will feature a discussion and explanation of extra-curricular activities at the school. Richard Bourdelais, athletic director, Diane Kolbin, fine arts director, and other staff members will explain the various activities available to students.

Named Bixler Scholar

Karen Jo Giammusso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Giammusso of Andover, has been distinguished as a Julius Seelye Bixler Scholar at Colby College, Waterville, Maine.

The Bixler Scholarship was established by the Colby Parents Association in honor of Dr. Bixler who retired as president of the college in 1960. It is given to top-ranking students in recognition of their academic achievements.

Giammusso, a junior majoring in English and Spanish, is a graduate of Andover High School.

Cronin At Seminar

Newly elected members of Congress soon will be better engineers and scientists than their predecessors because of a unique new seminar on engineering and science being prepared for them by The George Washington University.

The two-day seminar, featuring a galaxy of outstanding scientists, leading discussions in a variety of scientific and engineering disciplines, will be held at the National Academy of Sciences building in Washington, D.C., January 23 and 24. All newly elected members of Congress and some second-term Congressmen have been invited to attend.

The seminar has been organized by former Congressman Mike McCormack, himself a research scientist with bipartisan assistance from six former colleagues who were former leaders of the House Committee on Science and Technology including Hon. Paul W. Cronin of Andover, a former Congressman from the 5th Congressional District of Massachusetts. Cronin serves as president and chairman of Sunsav, Inc., (OTC) a diversified, public company.

"The goal of the seminar," according to Cronin, "is to help new Congressmen better understand and appreciate some of the basics of engineering, science and mathematics that they will need when considering legislation involving environmental protection, energy and resources, human health and safety, medical and biological research, hazardous substances, and a lot more."

The seminar will conclude with a banquet for Congressional leaders, new members, scientists and spouses in the Great Hall of the academy. Dr. David Hamburg, president of the Carnegie Corporation and of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, will discuss the challenge of technology to future lawmakers.

A silly name for a restaurant, maybe, but when the new guys took it over they couldn't think of anything better, so they kept it.

Usually when new guys take over, for some reason they say "Under New Management" as if that were going to draw big crowds. Actually, it just makes people suspicious, so they don't mention it.

They've changed a few things of course. (They always do) A new menu, nightly specials, daily specials and specialty nights. (You know, comedy nights, live entertainment, and they're even threatening fancy Sunday brunches.) The beverage tariff has been lowered a bit, too.

It's on Route 114 in North Andover and they wanted to be sure to say it's open to the public. (Otherwise why this ad?)

Actually, it's in the Willows tennis complex: a little hard to find, but you can. If you can't, the number is 685-2732. Ask for Harry or Andy (they're the new guys).

It's open M-F from 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. (trying to grab an early lunch crowd). Weekends they don't open until noon. (Don't people eat lunch on weekends?)

Oh, yes: This ad is supposed to mention the veal. Consider it mentioned.

Give it a shot. Who knows? You might even like it.

Troop 79 Has Court Of Honor

Troop 79 has been quite active. An Eagle Scout Court of Honor was held for Jon MacLean on December 7. He is the 38th scout from Troop 79 to earn the rank of Eagle Scout since April 1965. Other rank advancements at this court included one Life, two First Class, one Tenderfoot and five Scout. Thirty-nine skill awards, seven merit badges, the World Conservation Award and the Eagle Gold Palm were awarded to various troop members.

Eight scouts and two adult leaders spent three days at Camp Onway in Raymond, N.H., during Christmas. They stayed in Takesian Lodge where they prepared their own meals and chopped and split wood to keep the pot belly stove burning. Other activities included skating all the way around Lake Onway, sledding all over the camp and spending hours playing Risk and Trivial Pursuit.

Twenty-three Scouts and parents went night skiing at Nashoba Valley on January 11. Upcoming events for the troop include participating in the district's Klondike Derby and a hobby night February 1. Troop members age 13 and older will travel in March to a high adventure camp in Maine for winter survival training. The scouts of Troop 79 are sponsored by St. Robert's Church and hold meetings every Friday night from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Anyone interested in the troop is welcome to attend.

Play is the baby's education, and the mobile child needs both more time and more space for it. A five-to-eight-month-old may spend an hour at a time in the playpen but needs a regular relaxed period on the floor or outdoors on a lawn where he or she can explore and investigate. As the baby quickly develops skills and coordination, he or she also is becoming more playful. After reaching the age of six months, the baby quickly works up a repertoire of games, punctuated by laughter and excited movement.

Cory Staid Disproved Theory On Art As A Living

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Nobody told her that it was impossible to make a living by painting. Some 18 years ago, then — about the same time that she came to Andover — Cory Staid decided to support herself and her family with her watercolors.

She has since been informed that it can't be done. Too late, though: Cory Staid has "been very fortunate to be able to make a living" with her art, she says. "I seem to have a style that people like."

Last month the artist left Andover to settle in Kennebunkport, Maine, where she has run a gallery (called the Cory Staid Loft Gallery) for the past 14 summers.

"A lot of me hated to leave," she says. "I love this town. But I'd known I would have to do this for a long time — moving twice a year takes a lot of energy." When a riverfront house she had "coveted for years" came up for sale in Kennebunkport, the time to move north suddenly seemed right.

Mrs. Staid has not, however, cut her ties to Andover. Friends and family have already called her back many times since she moved to Maine on Dec. 4 — and her work is still exhibited and sold at the Limited Editions shop at 93 Main St.

The shop has displayed a generous sampling of her popular watercolors for the last ten years. (She also works in oils and acrylics.) Her subjects are, most often, soft-edged landscapes, with almost-hidden houses barely seen beyond a foreground of trees, rocks, water, snow. Her colors are muted and subtle: golden browns and greens, grayed blues.

In "Ocean Bluff at Kennebunkport," one of the largest and most dramatic of her paintings currently on exhibit, a steep cliff of sand and rock fills the foreground, while a weather-beaten house rises against a gray sky in the background. In "Sunset from Phillips Street," a gray-roofed white house emerges from a foreground of brown and gray foliage, contrasted against a pink and purple sky.

Cory Staid is a tall woman with a dramatic presence. She speaks softly, almost shyly about herself and her work, but she is straightforward and funny.

She has had little formal training as an artist, although she says she has "been drawing all my life." She worked as an electrical engineering draftsman in Boston for several years before she had her family. (Her six children are Kevin Staid, who lives in Lowell; Jon and Brian Staid, both of South Lawrence; Kathy Staid of Methuen; Karen Staid, who's attending college in Boston; and Mary Beth Matthews of Portland, Maine.)

After she left her job as a draftsman — and still needing to make a living — Cory decided, "I'll paint," she recalls. "Nobody told me. 'It can't be done.'"

She began teaching art courses at her home in Andover, exhibiting in local shows and, occasionally, in national shows: she won "a few awards." Soon she opened the gallery near her mother's home in Kennebunkport, to spend her summers showing her own work and that of other artists (many of them from Andover).

Before she came to Andover (where she lived on Central Street for nine years, and before that on Nancy Circle for nine years), Mrs. Staid lived in Reading. A Reading artist, the late Tad Klodnicki, was a "big influence" on her: His work inspired her, and she became his student.

Working with watercolors didn't always interest Cory. "I never thought that was what I wanted to do. I thought oil painting was the only 'real' art," she explains, "until I saw the work of Tad Klodnicki. He was very well-known, and he did 'real' paintings of watercolor."

As her teacher, Klodnicki "drove me," she says. She tried at first to paint the way she had drawn engineering plans — gripping her brush near the base, using small, precise motions. Klodnicki took the brush from her hand and taught her to hold it by the tip, encouraging her to dare broad, free strokes. "He made me stop being so tight."

Over the years her work has changed, the artist says. "I used to paint just like Tad Klodnicki, and now nobody would know that I studied with him. He was much more deliberate than I am. My paintings are fuzzy — I'm near-sighted, and I don't see clearly. Except when I get to architecture — then I have to fight being too tight. It's the electrical engineer in me."

Her use of color, too, has changed. "When I first started, I was afraid of color. Everything I did was monochromatic. I've recently noticed that I've become almost a colorist. My colors now are much more high-key — they used to be rather somber. I'm using colors I didn't dare work with before."

Color is the heart of her painting, Mrs. Staid says. "I call myself an impressionist, although I don't know really what that means." Although her work is representational, she usually paints from memory, so her paintings are not clear-eyed, true-to-life images.

"I love to do what I call overviews," she says, "big, broad landscapes that are almost semi-abstract, color impressions. I love to get it all in, trying to get that big feeling." She is often inspired by cross-country skiing expeditions in Vermont, or by the view from the passenger side of a friend's small airplane (which explains why she paints from memory: "You certainly can't paint in a tiny two-seater").

Cory recently completed one such overview in the form of a large (8-foot by 22-foot) mural in the foyer of the former Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium on Haverhill Street, which has been newly-converted into offices.

Done in acrylics, the mural depicts the Merrimack River as it runs through Andover and Lawrence, with a number of familiar buildings scattered along its banks. (The artist took "a lot of liberties" with the river, she admits, painting it as it might have looked three centuries ago.)

Her favorite subjects include not just landscapes, but interiors and wildflowers as well. "I like to paint all kinds of subjects — I'm always seeing things. Whatever I'm doing at the time is what I like the best. I certainly never started out to make myself a landscape painter. I wanted to do people, but my children got tired of sitting for me."

She no longer aspires to paint people.

Cory Staid

"I'm not interested in doing commissioned portraits, because you have to please the sitter. With landscapes, I can paint the way I see things — God's not there to say, 'I don't like it that way.'"

With the memory of, say, a mountain-top view in mind, Cory puts brush to paper and waits "to see what kind of image" emerges. Then, "I wait and look at it until it talks back to me and tells me what needs to be done."

"Ocean Bluff at Kennebunkport" was a painting-in-process for a year and a half. It is a painting of a "very familiar building" that many artists have painted, "but I did it from an impossible point of view," so that it is really an imaginary scene.

Cory didn't like her first version of the painting: "It was a wimp. I put it aside and just looked at it being wimpy for a

Ice Rescue Demonstration

With the Merrimack River to the West of Andover and Haggetts, Fosters and Pumps pond located around town, the fire department is on the alert to ice rescue during the winter months. The department conducted an ice rescue demonstration last Friday on Haggetts pond to evaluate the suitability of two rescue suits the department is considering purchasing. Firemen who gave up their time off to witness and take part were: Deputy Chief Harold Wright, Lieutenants Richard Merola, Richard Hartman and George Milne and firemen Robert West, Walter Winward, Shawn Mason, Edward Connor, Scott Gorrie, William Valentine, Craig Anderson and Armand Guilmette. On duty firemen who were also on hand: Deputy Chief Robert Boush, Lieutenants William Moore, Charles Murnane and Edward Palenski and firemen Roger Jamison, William Morris, Robert Sheaff, James Hadad, Walter Potvin and Robert Salisbury. The firemen, along with Jim Estabrook and Tom Boyd of United Divers Inc. who provided the suits went 200 yards off shore to an open spot in the pond and tested the suits for about two hours. Photos clockwise from upper left: Robert Sheaff tries the suit along with a hose filled with air that could be used as a life line; Edward Connor helps Lt. Richard Hartman remove the suit after a test run; Shawn Mason stands by to assist Jim Estabrook of United Divers Inc. of Somerville as he begins the demonstration; Shawn Mason models the the suit.

year, and then I repainted it. I made it ominous — I think it's much more interesting that way."

Painting is "a very challenging, yet satisfying thing to be doing," she says. "You can be so engrossed in a painting while you're working on it, but it never comes up to what you wanted — so you're challenged to try again."

"There's both frustration in the work, and a satisfaction that's very personal. And there's the gratification that comes from other people, the praise — I like it! People buying my work is a form of praise — that's very gratifying to me."

Her greatest difficulty is "getting to, just starting," Mrs. Staid says, particularly now that she has the distraction of a new house to make her own.

At the start of every new work, "I have such high hopes," she says, "and I know that the first stroke is only going to ruin the paper, and then I'll have to start fixing it. It's kind of threatening. You start with a wonderful vision, and then it just doesn't happen — except rarely. And then I wonder if I really did that."

Still, she is a "very prolific" painter, producing 75 to 80 works in varying sizes every year. "I work long and hard," Cory says. "I have two or three things in process all the time."

Cory's plans for the future include "getting my nest made" in Maine, and running outdoor workshops for art students in the spring and fall. She'll open her gallery on weekends starting in mid-May (it's located on Route 9, near the center of Kennebunkport). In the meantime, she'll enjoy a lot of cross-country skiing and the company of friends.

There is, too, the prospect of a new direction for her work. For there is, now, a certain tension between the accessibility of her work — which has helped her make a living as an artist — and her wish to grow as an artist.

"There is so much, but it is so unresolved," Mrs. Staid says of this desire for change and growth. "I guess every artist wants to do really good art. I've been very fortunate to be able to make a living out of it, but beyond that I'd hardly call myself a success.

"I'd like to count as an artist," she says, with a tentative smile. "But I don't think I've put enough into it."

"It's been proven over and over to me that the pieces I work very hard at to put something into, people do get something out of — the work I get the most back from, I've put the most into."

Cory Staid is, it seems, an artist who has more to give. Let no one be surprised, if she should, one day in Maine, find herself a new way to paint. Nobody's told her it can't be done.

Junior High Happenings

By Amy Mencis

Tomorrow is the close of the second term and the student council is planning third-quarter activities. Aleke Msumba and Matt Corbett, ninth grade officers, have met with the officers at West Junior High School to organize a Doherty-West ninth grade dance to bring the two classes together before they enter Andover High School. The dance will be held Saturday, Feb. 2, at Doherty from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

An all-school ice skating party is planned on March 1 at Phillips Academy from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Last Friday night's movie, "Tootsie," was well attended.

Last Monday evening ten members of the council were invited to attend the Parent Advisory Council meeting. Those involved in a discussion of school policies, improvements and activities were Laura Johnston, Jennifer Kasper, Josh Yezerksi, Katie Hollenbeck, Steve Mencis, Aleke Msumba, Matt Corbett, Kyle Murphy, Nancy Abranson and Amy Mencis.

The Doherty basketball teams have been playing a full schedule each week. The boys had only one victory, but all games have been played well. The girls have a record of 3 wins and 2 losses and have also played well. In a recent game against Dracut some of the starters made way for less experienced team members to perform. Strong showings by Tricia Doyle, Heather Pomeroy, Roz Thompson, Amy Mencis, Lisa Lothridge and Patty Perkins was shown. Friday marks the mid-season game for both teams.

Western Roundup

By Vicki Anderson

Last week at West Junior High School was special because the various days which the student council had planned. Wednesday was "Hat and Shades Day," Thursday was "Fifties Day," and Friday was "Clash Day." Many students participated by dressing for the occasions.

Throughout the week, students put dimes into numbered cans in the cafeteria which corresponded with the numbered pictures of six contestants for the title of "King of the Carnival" flexing their muscles. At the end of the week the Winter Carnival Dance was held. Runners-up (fourth, John Dorsey; third, Paul DeMarco; second, John Dorsey; first, Devon Arsenault) were announced along with the king, Fernando Gilday, who was crowned by Lisa Sullivan, the first runner-up of the Queen of the Harvest Festival contest which was held in the fall.

He has been invited to appear as guest soloist with such orchestras as the Baltimore and Portland symphonies. ## The Trocks Due At Center

Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo will bring their unique and hilarious brand of classical ballet to Andover's J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts on Sunday, Feb. 3, at 7 p.m.

Celebrating their tenth anniversary season, the Trocks, as they are known, have delighted audiences all over the world with their tongues planted firmly in their cheeks. Critics have called them everything from "pitiful" to "funny and sinister and beautiful," but they have become enormously popular since they first began performing en travesti in 1975.

For the uninitiated, The Trocks is a professional all-male dance troupe performing the full range of ballet and modern repertoire, including classical and original works. They are best known for their ham-footed pointwork, hairy chests and looks of agonized concentration while performing such works as "The Dying Swan," "Les Sylphides" and "Yes Virginia, Another Piano Ballet."

Tickets are available at the Collins Center Box Office, Shawsheen Road, off Route 133, Andover. For tickets and information, phone the center.

Earl Miller

Featured In New Record

Earl L. Miller, music director of Christ Church, Central Street, Andover, is the featured artist on a long-playing record just released of the organ at Brooks School, North Andover.

The Brooks School organ, which has recently been given national attention through an historical citation by the Organ Historical Society, has been described as one of the principal developments in the history of 20th century American organ building.

Although it has been discussed in numerous music journals and organ history texts, this is the first record to be issued in the instrument. Miller has chosen a variety of literature to demonstrate what William Sumner (author of the monumental organ text "The Organ") called one of the finest examples of small organ design. Works by Sweelinck and Buxtehude demonstrate the baroque period; a set of Renaissance Dances show off the unusual colors of the 47-year-old instrument. Boston composers are represented with a work by the early 20th century female composer Edith Lang. There are also pieces by Charles Marie Widor, Edward Elgar (Pomp and Circumstance March), William Faulkes and Miller's improvisation of the Brooks School Hymn, written during the Civil War period by a relative of Endicott Peabody.

The record is available at the Glebe House of Christ Church, 25 Central St.

Finneran In "Who's Who"

Prof. John L. Finneran of Northern Essex Community College has been named to the 1985 edition of "Who's Who in the East." This Marquis publication is a biographical listing of men and women of distinction whose influence is concentrated in the eastern sector of North America.

Finneran, a graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover, and Harvard University, began his teaching career in North Andover at Johnson High School. He then served two years as a research chemist for the Atomic Energy Commission. After his return to teaching at the Winchester High School, Finneran was given the opportunity to be one of three teachers chosen to open the new Northern Essex Community College being founded in Haverhill. He had the responsibility of designing the science laboratories to be constructed in the converted elementary school that was to become Northern Essex. Finneran taught all the science and mathematics course to the 120 students that opened the college. Since then the college has grown to nearly 10,000 students. Finneran is a full professor in the departments of natural science and teaches plant science and human biology. ## Elections Held At Hospital

Elections to the boards of trustees and directors of Valley Regional Health System, Inc. (Bon Secours Hospital of Methuen, Inc.) were held recently as part of the annual meeting of the corporation.

Newly elected as chairman of the board of trustees was Atty. Max Goldstein, former vice president. Re-elected as officers were Judge John E. Fenton, Jr., president, Sister Nancy Glynn, C.B.S., vice president/treasurer, Atty. Marie Walch Loughlin, assistant treasurer, Sister Mary Florence Kraft, C.B.S., clerk, and Raphael F. Borelli, Jr., M.D., assistant clerk.

New members elected to the board of trustees are Lawrence P. Morrisroe, vice president of Arlington Trust Company, Lawrence, and Atty. John T. Pollano of Touche Ross & Company of Boston, both former members of the board of directors.

New members elected to the board of directors are William T. Bride, Jr. of Bride Grimes & Co., Inc., Lawrence, and president of the Bon Secours Men's Guild, Sister Therese Capistran, S.G.M., executive director of the Mary Immaculate Nursing Home in Lawrence, Atty. Marsha K. Elias from the Lawrence law firm of Sweeney and Sargent, Herbert J. Hatem, M.D., of Lawrence, and Richard K. Mallen of S.J. Mallen and Son Company, North Andover.

William L. Lane, the hospital's executive director, made reference to the following 1984 highlights during his presentation:

Bon Secours Hospital put in place a new corporate structure to ensure the future viability of the hospital as a primary provider of acute general health care services. Specifically, the hospital established a parent non-profit corporation named Valley Regional Health System, Inc. which is designed to serve as the umbrella organization for its affiliated business entities; namely, Bon Secours Hospital of Methuen, Inc., the Bon Secours Salem Health Center and two subsidiary corporations: a not-for-profit entity called Valley Regional Support Services, Inc. and a for-profit entity called Valley Regional Ventures, Inc.

Bon Secours Hospital endorsed a proposal by Rehab Associates of New England to serve as the site for a building to house a Magnetic Resonance Imaging scanner. Magnetic Resonance Imaging is the latest and most sophisticated diagnostic modality to date which enhances conventional means of imaging soft tissue and internal body organs; it is considered to be a significant breakthrough in diagnostic medicine.

Bon Secours Hospital worked side by side with a group of Andover physicians to develop a physician-owned surgical day care/ambulatory care center at 140 Haverhill St., Andover. Construction has been underway for the 30,000 sq.ft. complex since April. The project has received the support and endorsement of local and state agencies. Although the hospital will have no ownership interest in either the surgical day care or ambulatory care service, it will provide administrative and general business service.

The hospital's surgical capabilities were enhanced through the combined efforts of a group of urologic surgeons and the hospital through the introduction of a new dimension to endourological surgery. Called "keyhole surgery," it is a process through which urinary tract stones can be removed with less discomfort and scarring than the more conventional means of removal; this new procedure decreases the length of hospital stay.

Bon Secours Hospital established the first sleep disorder study program in the Merrimack Valley. The pulmonary sleep testing laboratory is designed to treat disorders caused by pulmonary breathing difficulties such as apnea, a serious and sometimes life-threatening disorder.

Bon Secours Hospital was selected to participate in the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company's SelectCare Program, making the hospital a preferred provider hospital for people who enroll in the SelectCare health benefit program.

Cookie Sale

The first day of the annual Girl Scout cookie sale was Friday, Jan. 18. The Girl Scout cookie sale is important to Girl Scouts and their troop leaders because it provides the dollars that allow them to carry out all the plans they've been working on all fall. The money raised funds activities such as camping trips, field trips, service projects in the community, supplies for other troop projects and as many activities as there are good ideas in troops. Girl Scouts will sell cookies through Sunday, Feb. 3.

The slogan for this year's Girl Scout cookie sale is "Girl Scouting: Where the Future Begins." For many girls their futures truly begin with the skills and values they learn in girl scouting.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

Is your renovated kitchen's ceiling to be brought down? If so, it does not have to be replaced with another one of flat plaster. The new ceiling can be lower in some parts than in others.
This change in levels can be used to define areas such as the cooking area or eating area. Or,
it can be used to arbitrarily satisfy decorative whims. In some cases, a kitchen can be improved by adding a false ceiling.
In other cases, a better approach would be to remove the existing ceiling and expose what is above it. It is satisfying to give character to a room by exploiting what is already there by bringing out its hidden assets. For example, consider exposing roughly finished floor joists.

Be innovative, be creative, be anything you want when remodeling your kitchen. Of course you can go the traditional route, but with the expert staff at WINDSOR KITCHENS we'll show you that the modern way is the most creative and efficient.

With the use of beautiful custom cabinets we'll have you on your way to a magnificent new kitchen.
We also have an impressive selection of accessories to complement these cabinets. Why not visit us Mon-Thurs. 9-5:30. Fri.
8-5. Sat. 10-2 to bring beauty and convenience into your home.

Condo Plan

opposed McNeil's plans for a 27-unit development, because the developer's plans differed too radically from the 1984 plans that town meeting has approved.

Although town meeting rezoned the land, the developers must still obtain a special permit from the zoning board before they may build in an apartment zone.

This week, Nancy Jeton of the Community Development and Planning staff told the planning board that McNeil and Associates are now working with the planning staff to come up with a plan town officials will support - before they return to the zoning board.

Jeton reported Tuesday night that McNeil and Associates have now hired Matrazzo Design of Concord, N.H. - the land planners who designed the site plan approved last year - to draw their new site plan.

The Boston architectural firm of Royal Barry Wills has been kept on to design the buildings, she added; that firm drew the site plan rejected by the planning board two months ago.

McNeil's latest plan revises some of the design features that the planners objected to, Jeton said: it increases the setback from the property line in the northwest corner of the parcel, for instance, keeps construction away from on-site wetlands, and relocates the street serving the site.

But the six proposed buildings are still larger and "more elongated" than the "densely-packed" units shown on the 1984 plan, she indicated. The buildings would cover 2.2 percent more ground than originally planned, even though there are now 27 units in the plan instead of the original 29.

The complex would include one, one and one-half, and two-story units, according to the new plan; the units would feature one or two bedrooms, plus dens that could be used as bedrooms.

Planning Chairman Margaret Bradshaw said she would like to see the

Andover, No. Reading Police Make Second Drug Arrest

By Susan Rand

An Andover man police arrested four months ago, then suspected of selling drugs out of his Stevens Street home, was again arrested last Wednesday in North Reading, and later in the week in Andover, this time for allegedly dealing in cocaine and marijuana in Reading and North Reading.

Police were quick to credit neighbors in the arrest of Michael D. Roberts, 55 Stevens St., who was charged with possession with intent to distribute a class D substance, marijuana; possession of a class B substance, cocaine; possession of a dangerous weapon, a switchblade; and conspiracy to violate controlled substance laws. He faces charges in Woburn District Court, for the arrest in North Reading and in Lawrence District Court, for the drugs police found in his home, including marijuana and cocaine residue.

But, Roberts "went into hiding," after the North Reading arrest, explained Andover Detective John Bernhardt, and police here couldn't find him to arrest him after they secured a warrant for his arrest after they had the drugs in his home. Because North Reading and Andover are in different District Court jurisdictions Roberts was arrested twice by police from both towns.

In an interview with THE TOWNSMAN Monday, Andover detectives Bernhardt and David Grant said that this second investigation of Roberts was as a result of information they received that Roberts was "in business again."

Roberts' attorney, who Bernhardt said is from Melrose, called Bernhardt on Friday to let the detective know he would turn Bernhardt in to Andover police on Monday morning at 9 a.m., at Lawrence District Court. Bernhardt said he met Roberts and his attorney at the court on Monday and Roberts was arraigned in court.

The arrests are what Grant said is a good example of neighborhood and police department cooperation. It was the neighbors who originally tipped police off, last September, to Robert's dealings from his home. Detectives watched his home from the neighborhood last fall and before last week's arrests both Grant and Detective Kevin Winters had been watching Roberts for about six weeks. Grant guessed the two men had put in some 140 hours on the Roberts' investigation.

"We believe we put a dent in the drug flow in Reading and North Reading," said Bernhardt. "We feel he was a major supplier of cocaine and marijuana in the Reading and North Reading area."

Roberts was arrested at approximately 7:15 p.m., last Wednesday while he was parked at North Reading's Atlantic Food Mart parking lot, said Grant. Arrested with him was a juvenile from North Reading, who was charged with conspiracy to violate drug laws. North Reading Detective Edward Hayes arrested Roberts in the parking lot.

Hayes was assisted by Andover detectives Grant, Winters and Sgt. John P. Houlihan, who heads up Andover's detective unit.

As soon as Roberts was arrested in North Reading his home was secured by Andover Detectives Bernhardt and Joseph Hastings. The police had heard evidence at the home might be destroyed following the arrest, explained Bernhardt, and, he said, they were warned that someone might be there. But they didn't find anyone in the Stevens Street home when they arrived, he said.

The telephone kept Bernhardt and Hastings busy while they were searching Robert's home, said Bernhardt, who guessed he took about 20 calls from persons wanting to purchase cocaine in one and one half hours. The callers gave only their first names, said Bernhardt, and called to buy half-ounces of cocaine, which the detective said sometimes sells for $800.

"The phone kept ringing," said Bernhardt. "We had to stop answering it to search the house."

Word of the North Reading arrest traveled back to Andover fast as Bernhardt answered one call where the caller to the Stevens Street house said that Roberts had been arrested in North Reading and warned those in the house should leave.

Also arrested last Wednesday was Frank Fedele, 23, 55 Stevens St., who, Bernhardt said, showed up at Roberts' home at approximately 9:15 p.m., carrying 31 grams of cocaine with a street value of between $5,000 and $10,000. Andover Police charged Fedele with major trafficking, which Bernhardt said carries a three-year mandatory jail sentence; possession of cocaine with intent to distribute; possession of marijuana and conspiracy to violate drug laws.

On Jan. 11 Roberts was convicted in Lawrence District Court of possession of a class B substance, cocaine, and possession of a class D substance, marijuana, with intent to distribute as well as possession of hypodermic needles, as a result of his September arrest in Andover. He was fined a total of $500, and given 2 suspended sentences of six months each and a sentence of two years probation. Because his second arrest violates the probation from the September conviction Bernhardt said he thinks Roberts may go to jail.

Grant said the police theorize that Roberts would leave his house and travel to North Reading where he would park in various lots every night of the week waiting to meet other people, who police allege were buying drugs from Roberts. Sometimes he would meet two or three different people a night in one lot, said Grant, who observed what he believes to be as many as six drug sales in the same location. Roberts had also used the Shawsheen Plaza to meet buyers, said Grant.

Also assisting with last week's arrests were Andover Police officers William MacKenzie and Donald Pattullo.

Need For More Hotel Space Prompts Altering Of Bylaw

By Susan Rand

With new office and manufacturing space opening every month in Andover the demand for hotel space here is growing and the Rt. 93-River Road area has been identified by those in the hotel business as prime space for overnight accommodations.

One Andover hotel is looking to expand in size and town officials say a Florida-based real estate company that owns land on Old River Road, and tried once before to put a hotel there, may try again. The way hotels are developed in Andover may change, too, because of a town-sponsored article on the Town Meeting agenda that would eliminate what town planning officials call "obsolete" hotel regulations in the zoning bylaw.

But town planners are keeping a close watch on potential hotel development here and according to Andover's Principal Planner Nancy Jeton won't let the town become "a hotel city."

"A hotel is the type of service needed in the River Road area," said Jeton in a telephone interview with THE TOWNSMAN on Tuesday. She said she had received as many as 20 telephone calls from hotel developers interested in Andover. "I-93 has been identified as a place that needs hotels by Holiday Inn of America and other real estate companies."

As it is now written the town's zoning bylaw permits the construction of hotels and motels in the General Business District and with a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals the lodging areas are allowed in the Shopping Center District and on Industrial A and D land. The Town Meeting change, if it is approved, would take a section out of the bylaws that lists special requirements for hotels and motels built anywhere but on General Business land. The River Road property near many of the new industrial buildings is mostly Industrial D and Industrial A land.

One example of how zoning will change if the hotel bylaw is deleted is that buildings will no longer be restricted to two stories or 30 feet in height, a rule that Jeton explained was written when townspeople wanted hotels and motels to be sprawling two-story buildings where guests could drive-up to their rooms. That style building, popular in the 1960's, usually had a first floor room or second floor accommodation with a balcony overlooking the parking space for each room.

Jeton said these "low-profile" hotels and motels of the past are not necessarily what's best for Andover. If allowed to build up higher the hotel or motel could cover less ground space and have less of an impact on the environment, she explained.

Height for hotels would be 50 feet and four stories on Industrial A land and 50 feet and three stories on Industrial A land if the zoning regulations are changed.

Somewhat hampered by existing zoning regulations are executives at Koala Inns of America Corp., who would like to add up to 150 rooms to their 124 room hotel at 131 River Road. Zoning rules will keep the proposed addition down to 60 new rooms, spread over two-stories because one provision of the bylaw voters will decide about deleting at Town Meeting mandates at least 2,000 square feet for each unit in a hotel or motel. Koala doesn't own enough land to add 150 rooms to their building under the 2,000 foot rule.

The need for 150 extra rooms at Koala was a result of a study of the occupancy rate in the area said Robert S. Agnello, president and treasurer of Koala Inns. Agnello told THE TOWNSMAN, in a telephone interview from his Boston office, that with more industry moving to town, overnight accommodations are needed on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, nights that Agnello said are "travellers favorite nights." The rooms would be more than weekend reservations call for, he said, but the building was worth the $2 to $2.5 million the company will spend for the 60-room addition.

And, Agnello said, if the zoning laws change at Town Meeting the building will be able to accommodate further expansion. Construction is due to begin as soon as the company secures a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals because their addition will put the building too close to their rear lot line.

The Zoning Board meeting is set for Thursday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m., in the second floor conference room of the school administration building, off Whittier Street. (Five other petitions will be heard on unrelated matters, see story elsewhere, this issue.)

(The Planning Board reviewed site plans for the proposed Koala Inn addition Tuesday night, so that they could forward their comments to the zoning board.)

(The planners' only significant concern: the traffic that the 60 new rooms will add to River Road, which is already congested with industrial traffic.)

(Although most hotel-generated traffic hits River Road during off-peak hours, and not during commuter rush hours, "We just keep adding to that poor little road out there," planner Michael Houghton commented.)

(Chairman Margaret Bradshaw, however, said that the hotel provides services needed in the West Andover area, and seems to meet the provisions of the zoning bylaw. Except for their "generalized concern about the state of River Road," she concluded, the planners would give the Koala Inn proposal a "positive" review.)

Koala Inn isn't the only hotel looking to build near Rt. 93. Jeton said Ocean Properties Ltd., of Boca Raton, Florida, may choose to build a hotel on the land they own off Old River Road. Ocean Properties tried once before, in March of last year, to put a $25 million hotel and convention center on that same property, which they did not own at the time. They bought the land from The Arkwright In-

Request Addition To Hotel

A proposed 60-room addition to the Koala Inn on River Road tops the Zoning Board of Appeals hearings set for next month's meeting.

Hotel executives are planning a 600-room addition and need a special permit from the ZBA because the addition would put them too close to their rear lot line. (See story elsewhere this issue.) The ZBA meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m., in the school committee meeting room, on the second floor of the school administration building, off Whittier Street.

The board will also hear a petition filed jointly by Koala-Andover Associates and SGS Restaurants Inc., the Montreal company that purchased Valle's Restaurant. They are requesting a variance to allow the new owners to redesign the sign in front of the River Road steak house.

June A. Bosworth will ask the board to allow a garage on her 348 River Road property to remain a single family dwelling on her lot where there is already another single family home. Also before the board is a petition from Jala and Mary Sayess, Plaistow, N.H., who want to subdivide one lot into two on vacant land with frontage on Tucker Road. If subdivided the land will not have the minimum frontage required in the town's zoning by-law.

Virginia M. Perry, 95 Sunset Rock Road, will request a variance to allow continued existence of the single family home she owns at 218 Holt Road. And John and Denise Lavoie, 5 Stevens St., will ask for a variance so they can add to a garage which is too close to their lot line.

State Census Underway

It's that time again. Time to tell state census officials how many people live in your home, their ages and their occupations.

This year town officials are making it easy to return the census forms and have arranged for three drop-off stations at banks here in town. The census information is used by the state for statistics needed in decisions such as the awarding of local aid money, community development projects and the number of alcoholic beverage licenses the town may allow.

Locally the census figures are important because they may show that Andover needs to draw new precinct lines. According to Town Clerk Elden Salter, who was appointed the municipal census supervisor by the state, each precinct must have a similar number of residents, not exceeding 4,000 in any one precinct. If the number is greater than 4,000 in a precinct or Salter finds the residents unevenly distributed throughout the town he must redistrict, as the town had to do in 1975 after the last state census.

Every ten years the state conducts a census, on years ending with a "5." And every decade, on years ending with a "0" the federal government does a count of people.

Salter said he will send the census forms out sometime next week. And, he stressed, although there is no due date for the forms, it is best if residents fill them out and immediately return them.

The census form will list residents at every address in town, as they are listed on the town's computer, along with their age, sex, date of birth, citizenship, and occupation. Residents must check the information, change what is incorrect and put the form into the census envelope provided with the form.

In a change from past practice all residents listed on forms who are not living at home such as college students, nursing home residents or those in the military will not be counted as Andover residents but residents of the address where they are living.

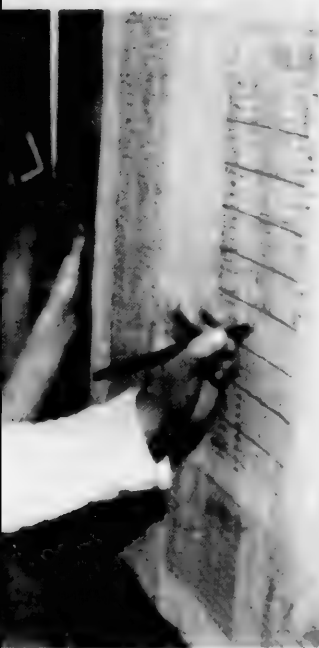

The census envelope or a regular business envelope with the form enclosed should be stamped and mailed back to Town Hall. Or residents may save a stamp and leave the forms in the large red boxes marked "Andover Town Census." The drop-off boxes are at the Andover Savings Bank, 61 Main St.; Arlington Trust Company, Shawsheen Plaza; or the Bay Bank Merrimack Valley, 23 Main St.

Salter urged residents with questions about the form to call his office.

"We have to get a good response from the residents in case we need to redistrict," explained the Town Clerk.

Pinewood Derby

Pack 76 Cub Scouts of the South School held their annual Pinewood Derby Saturday. The four-hour event had over 150 people filling the South School cafeteria to watch boys from nine dens enter their home-made racing cars. A variety of ribbons were handed out and cars were eliminated until three winners came out on top towards the end of the afternoon. A bake sale, provided by the mother's of the cub scouts was also held. Photos clockwise from upper left: Monte Radaack, den leader of Webelos 2 and official starter, begins the race; Two-year-old Brian Crowley finds watching the racing with his father, Dan Crowley, a little too exhausting; Cub scouts, Mark Peikin, eight and Todd Hughes, eight, cheer their cars on as Eric Peikin, two, looks on; The final three winners of the race: Ben Stafford, eight, of Den 1 took second place, Brian Hill, nine, of Den 5 took first place and Adam Heller, nine, of Den 2 took third place. Their cars will compete in the Scout-O-Rama Derby Race against other packs in May; Cubmaster Mark Seball gives his daughter, Rachel, three, a better view; John Hill records the race on his V.C.R.; Doug Gordon, ten, and Matthew Radaack, ten, both Webelos of Den 2, jump to their feet as the cars race by them; Brian Hill, Jeff Brammer and Kevin Pojasek react to the race; Den Leader for Webelos 2, Neil Gordon keeps score; Greg Buia and David Burke of Den 4 hold up their winning ribbons. They took first and second place in their own den.

Premium Hotel Space

When the Rolling Green Motel was built over 20 years ago, there was little doubt that it would be a successful venture, but probably no one envisioned the day when hotel-motel space would be at a premium in Andover.

But, that is a problem with which Andover's planners are now wrestling and proposing to do something about at the annual town meeting this year.

With a moderate amount of industry in the community when the Rolling Green was built, and the IRS center across the street, success was virtually assured. So much so that within a short period of time an addition was placed on the building and later, the entire building expanded and renovated.

Today, the development of the West Andover and Lowell Junction industrial areas, practically to the maximum amount of space available, makes additional need for space accommodation a virtual necessity.

And, hotel-motel developers are looking longingly at potential areas in Andover.

Koala Inn, already a tenant, will be asking the zoning board of appeals next week for permission to add additional rooms to their facility. While Koala would like to provide up to 150 additional units to its River Road location, they can only seek 60, due to Andover's restrictive hotel by-laws.

Other developers who would be most willing to satisfy the need for additional hotel rooms for businessmen and visitors, are also limited in the scope of what they could build in the town, due to the same restrictions.

The planning board has wisely placed before the voters at town meeting this year a bylaw revision, which would continue to protect the town, yet liberalize the manner in which a hotel could be built.

For instance, at present such facilities are limited to two stories which was satisfactory back in the '50's when the travelling public pulled up to the motel room door for overnight accommodations.

Today, such a facility in Andover is in need of meeting rooms, conference areas and other such amenities to accommodate the industrial and business community which has quietly and significantly altered the West Andover and Lowell Junction landscape.

Approval of the bylaw revisions would accomplish a couple of things for Andover.

First and foremost it would respond to a need, accommodating our industrial and business tenants, without having a detrimental effect on the town as a whole.

Also, it would provide the town with additional tax revenue without imposing increased demands on municipal services, which is always a pleasant prospect.

The Public Forum

Appreciative

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

On behalf of the Greater Lawrence Chapter of Friends of the New England Home for Little Wanderers, I would like to thank the people of the Merrimack Valley for being so generous to our Little Red House campaign during the recent holiday season.

We are most grateful to the stores and other businesses that allowed us to place the Little Red Houses with them and to the people who supported them with donations.

The funds collected are used to defray the cost of holiday gifts that were purchased for the children in the care of the home and also to provide them with an added treat such as ski or camping trips on school vacation or some other special outing these children may never have experienced without our help.

We thank one and all who paused to drop a coin in one of our Little Red Houses.

A Little Compassion

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

From childhood we are taught that our men in blue will always be a friend. Unfortunately, I did not find a friend in blue last Wednesday night.

On one of the coldest nights of the year, my car battery decided to give me trouble. I was meeting a physician at Liggett Rexall to pick up an emergency prescription for my husband. Since I had already experienced car trouble that night, I made the decision to park, illegally, in the fire lane. I left the car running and the lights on. The doctor had not yet arrived and since it was so cold, I waited inside by the door—for the doctor and to be able to watch my car.

The physician arrived a short time later. He gave the pharmacist the prescription as I was still watching my car. During a brief conversation with the doctor, both of our cars were ticketed. I approached the officer and proceeded to explain why I was illegally parked. The officer was not my friend in blue. He showed no compassion for my quandry and he threatened to have my car towed if I did not move it immediately. Additionally, he threatened another ticket for leaving my car running.

I suspect he was "doing his job." I felt I had made the best decision under the circumstances. Never did I think that an Andover policeman would be so uncompassionate and uncaring to a person in distress. I fear for us townspeople of Andover—have we grown so large as a town that people (police) can no longer take time to help others?

I have, numerous times, contacted our police and they have always been quick to respond, have been sympathetic and have shown genuine concern for the problem. On this unfortunate night, under stress and emotion, I needed a friend in blue.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — January 1910

Franklin H. Stacy, the local pharmacist, has been appointed branch agent for the American Express money order.

The societies of St. Augustine's Church are planning to hold a concert and an apron and necktie party next Monday evening, Jan. 31, in the town hall. Music by the Columbian orchestra. Admission will be 50 cents.

Paris, Jan. 27 — The Seine is still rising, and Paris, like a doomed city, is holding its breath in terror. Galloping orderlies are bearing instructions which can no longer be sent by telephone. The army of police, firemen and soldiers give the appearance of a city fighting for its life. This morning the water is rising rapidly and has reached to within a few inches of the parapet of the quay at the Louvre.

That is an unusual and encouraging sign of progress that is suggested by the announcement in another column of a lecture in Abbott Village on the "Teeth of Children." The lecture is to be given by an authority, and under the auspices of the Mothers' Club, and evidences an interest on the part of the people in the ordinary walks of life that promises much for better health of the rising generation.

50 Years Ago — January 1935

Andover and the whole country woke up Thursday morning to find itself buried under the heaviest blanket of snow that had been recorded in almost 40 years, a snowfall which found the most modern of snow-fighting equipment almost useless, a snowfall which put a nearly complete stop to all movement of traffic, a snowfall which marooned many travelers in railroad stations, police stations and countless other places, a snowfall which in brief turned everybody's life almost topsy-turvy.

Several of the town departments ended the year with balances lower than $1.00, according to the final department appropriation statements. The tree warden with eight cents had the lowest balance, while several others were close behind: C.W.A. material .19; water extensions .31; and Spring Grove Cemetery .68.

The Board of Public Works will probably have an article inserted in the warrant this year asking for an appropriation of $350 for a team of horses. The old team was broken up last year, with one going to the rest farm and the other dying. This winter the Board has hired a team from Lawrence, and had to hire another team for this week's snowstorm.

25 Years Ago — January 1960

Russell G. Doyle of Evergreen In. has announced his candidacy for the office of Selectman. Associated with his father in the Doyle Lumber Co., he is also active in general contracting, property appraisals and insurance loss adjustments. Mr. Doyle is a native of Andover, was educated in local schools, and received his A.B. Degree from Colgate University in 1953.

Elm St. Rezoning Proposed

Thanks to the cooperation of the Board of Selectmen, North Andover funeral director John Caron will appear before town meeting this spring with a second bid to open a new funeral home on Elm Street.

Caron missed the Jan. 7 deadline for inserting articles on the warrant for 1985 town meeting — and he might have missed his chance to ask voters to consider his proposal for rezoning a residential Elm Street site for business use.

The selectmen, however, voted three-one to reopen the warrant last Monday night, Jan. 14 — a week beyond the deadline — and insert Caron's article on the warrant for the annual meeting, which will convene April 1.

Last April, Caron asked town meeting to rezone 42-44 Elm St. from Single Residence A to General Business, so that he could convert an apartment house located at that address into a funeral home. The house is owned by Dennis Doherty.

Because the business zone now ends at 28 Elm St. (the Gurry Agency), the Planning Board last year told voters that Caron's rezoning request would amount to spot zoning — that is, siting one business parcel in the middle of a residential zone.

Town meeting favored Caron's article 277-186, but the proposal was defeated because it failed to win the two-thirds majority needed to approve a zoning change.

To avoid the spot-zoning label, this year Caron has proposed extending the business zone up the street from the Gurry Agency to include, and end at, 42-44 Elm. His new warrant article includes three residential properties located between the Gurry building and the Doherty apartment house.

When contacted by the TOWNSMAN last week, the funeral director would not comment on whether he plans to buy the additional three houses listed in his warrant article. He said his "aim" was to "have a funeral home at 42-

44 Elm St."

Caron added, however, that he has "the support of a tremendous majority of neighbors," including the owners of those three properties.

In recent months the planning board has discussed possible ways to expand the Central Business District (CBD). Asked if he had considered waiting for the planners to come up with new CBD boundaries — which conceivably could have included 42-44 Elm St. — Caron said he wanted to open a funeral home in Andover "immediately, to compensate for the closings of two funeral homes in Andover in the last year and a half."

(The Lundgren Funeral Home, formerly of 18 Elm St., closed last year; before that, the Lane Allen Funeral Home closed the doors of its former Park Street location.)

"The needs must be met at this time," Caron said. "There has been tremendous inconvenience (to Andover residents) due to the two closings."

Only Selectman Norma Gammon was opposed to reopening the warrant last week to insert Caron's article. (William Dalton was not present when the vote was taken.)

Gammon said there was "no excuse" for Caron's missing the Jan. 7 deadline, because he had been discussing his rezoning proposal with town officials ever since it was defeated by 1984 town meeting.

Selectman Gerald Silverman said he agreed that Caron should have submitted his article on time. But Silverman added that he did not want the board to keep the article off the warrant "on a technicality," because, he said, town meeting should have a chance to make the final decision.

Caron told the TOWNSMAN he missed the warrant closing deadline because he was re-negotiating his sale agreement for 42-44 Elm St. with the current owner.

After amending an unrelated article on a proposed recreation center/hockey rink last Monday, the selectmen voted unanimously to close the warrant again.

Seeking School Post

So far there are seats enough to go around on the School Committee as the race to fill the five-member board got its second candidate yesterday for the two open positions.

Sean Gresh, 5 Patricia Circle, took out nomination papers for the March 25 election. He joins David Birnback, 2 Bellevue Road, in the race to sit on the school board. Committee member Robert F. Smith announced he will not seek re-election to the seat he has held for one term, due to business obligations. And member Susan T. Poore has not yet taken out nomination papers to keep her seat on the board.

Gresh is an assistant professor of journalism at Emerson College, in Boston, and the author of "Becoming a Father." He also is a freelance writer. Gresh could not be reached at his home or at his Emerson office before THE TOWNSMAN's deadline yesterday to discuss his candidacy.

There were no other new candidates for the March election, for which nomination papers are due on Feb. 11, said Town Clerk Elden Salter.

Unbeaten Central Runs By Andover.

The Andover Boy's Track Team became Central Catholic's fifth victim as they ran past Andover High 47-39 Monday at the Methuen High Field House. The win hiked Central to 5-0 while Andover slipped to 3-2. The close meet provided some fine performances as each team won five events but Central picked enough second and third place finishes to pull it out. Missing from the meet Monday was Andover's top 1000 yard runner, Robert Salisbury, who was injured over the weekend in a car accident. Photos clockwise from upper left: Bob Hebeisen clears the bar to take first place in the high jump. The winning height was 5-10; Brian Cronin gives his all to pass this Central runner in the final stretch of the 600 yard run. Brian was unable to pass him and took third with a time of 1:23.1; Keith Driscoll, center, is on his way to a first place win in the 50 yard hurdles, winning with a time of 6.6; Winning the two mile race for Andover was John Yeserski with a time of 10:06.6.

Warrior Icemen Split Pair

By Rick Harrison

The first line of Shane Smith, Capt. Tom Marjerison and Shaun Bateson came alive last week, accounting for all the Andover High scoring as the Golden Warriors' varsity hockey team split a pair of games against two tough Merrimack Valley Conference opponents.

Coach Charlie Donovan's squad, which has impressed rival coaches throughout the first half of the season, battled MVHL Large School Division leader Chelmsford to the wire before three late goals enabled the Lions to pull out a 4-1 triumph at Merrimack College.

Two nights later the Golden Warriors handed Small School Division frontrunner Wilmington its first league loss as goals by Bateson, Marjerison and Smith carried AHS to a 3-1 victory at Merrimack College.

The split left Andover with a 4-5-0 overall record, including a somewhat deceptive 1-5-0 mark in MVHL play.

The Warriors have a pair of games scheduled at the Janas Rink in Lowell this week. They met Tewksbury (4-3-1) last night, and will return on Saturday evening to battle Dracut (3-7-0). The game against the Middies faces off at 6 p.m.

Chelmsford, 4-1

Chelmsford, one of the top-ranked teams in Eastern Mass. Division I with a 7-1-2 overall record and 5-0-2 MVHL ledger, had all it could handle from the stubborn Golden Warriors.

Lions' sophomore wing Jeff Robinson opened the scoring at 8:04 of the first period, notching his first varsity goal with assists to Bob Sullivan and Tom Gallagher.

Chelmsford outshot Andover 14-6 in the period, but AHS junior goaltender Bob Pothier was sharp with 13 saves.

Shane Smith, the Warriors' top scorer with seven goals and 10 points, tied the game 1-1 at 10:56 of the middle period. Tom Marjerison and Shaun Bateson were credited with the assists.

The contest remained deadlocked until there were less than six minutes to go, Chelmsford suddenly striking for a pair of go-ahead goals 13 seconds apart at 9:16 and 9:29 of the final period.

Defenseman Marc Pelchat netted the eventual game-winner, assists to Bob Tobin and blueline partner Tom Sartorelli, and the insurance tally went to Brian Egan (Scott Bruno, Mike Bowser).

Andover pulled Pothier for a sixth skater in the final minute, but Tobin came through with an empty-net goal 11 seconds from the finish to make it 4-1.

The Lions held a 30-16 overall shooting edge, Pothier kicking out 26 shots and CHS netminder Ron Webber coming up with 15 stops.

"It was a super game by our kids," noted Donovan. "Our overall defensive play was excellent. John Jones and John Marocco did an outstanding job, and the third line of Glenn Alford, Steve Donovan, Mark Neaves and Matt Young have been forechecking extremely well."

"For all intents and purposes it was a 2-1 game," continued Donovan. "Bobby (Pothier) was screened on their second goal, and the last one was a empty-netter. It's a shame to come up with an effort like that and lose."

"We still have to get the offense moving, and we're bound to break out of it (goalscoring slump) sooner or later," concluded Donovan.

After this game the Golden Warriors had scored just two goals in three contests, bowing to Haverhill (5-1) and Lowell (4-0).

"We didn't play particularly well, but Andover probably had something to do with that," stated Chelmsford coach Jack Fletcher, whose team has lost only to Catholic Conference powerhouse St. John's Prep (2-1).

"In the third period our defensemen started to pick things up, and the forwards came around after that. We played better overall team defense, and we moved the puck up ice quicker in the last period. Up until then we were running around and chasing people."

"Webber also kept us in the game when it was 1-1," continued Fletcher. "One of the Andover kids had a great chance early in the third period, letting a real cannon shot go from the top of the right faceoff circle. Webber got his waffle (stickpad) on it just in time, but if Andover had scored there I'm not sure what would have happened afterward."

"This is the best Andover team I've seen," added the Chelmsford coach. "Their goalie made four or five skate saves that were beauties, and I can't remember an Andover goaltender ever playing tougher against us."

Andover, 3-1

The Golden Warriors took some positive steps towards breaking out of their offensive doldrums, as the first line heated up for three goals against defending Small School champ and 1983-84 E.Mass. Division II Tournament semifinalist Wilmington.

Shaun Bateson gave the Warriors a 1-0 lead with his second goal of the season at 13:29 of the first period, set-ups to Shane Smith and Tom Marjerison.

Junior goalie Greg Najjar protected the slim 1-0 lead throughout a scoreless second stanza, which saw AHS squander a brief 5-on-3 power-play opportunity, but at 1:23 of the final period Dave Richards tied it with his third goal of the campaign.

It took Tom Marjerison exactly 40 seconds to restore the Andover lead, his third goal assisted by Smith and John Marocco at 2:03.

Smith added the clincher with 1:55 remaining, pocketing his seventh of the year with the lone assist to Marjerison.

Wilmington goaltender Brian Surette made 19 saves and Najjar had 11 as Andover managed a 22-12 shooting edge.

The loss snapped a four-game victory streak for the Wildcats, coached by Andover resident Bill Cullen.

"Once again we had super efforts from all four defensemen," said Donovan, citing the strong play of sophomore Dave Curtis, sophomore Chris Sapuppo, Jones and Marocco.

"We were ready for this game, and the kids have really put together a good string of solid performances. In past games we've played up to 2½ good periods of hockey, but tonight we skated well from beginning to end.

"We've also had outstanding goaltending the last two games, and when those guys (Pothier, Najjar) came to life it sparked the other kids. We played with more confidence, and the defensemen seemed to protect the goalies a little better.

"All-in-all I think we may be ready to make a move (up in the standings). Other than one bad period against Central we've held our own and been competitive with everyone. If we keep skating well the second half of the season should be very interesting," concluded Donovan.

Warriors Continue Winning

By Rick Harrison

Chelmsford and Wilmington were the latest victims, as the Andover High boys' varsity basketball team remained on track last week in its quest for an Eastern Mass. Division I Tournament berth and a possible Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division championship.

The Golden Warrior hoopsters completed their first swing through the Large School Division with a 68-58 conquest of Chelmsford at the Dunn Gymnasium, and opened their Small School go-around with a lopsided 65-31 romp over visiting Wilmington.

The sweep left coach Tom Ryser's squad at 7-2 overall, including 5-1 in the league as they continue to duel undefeated Eastern Mass. Division I North titlist Lowell for supremacy of the MVC's top division.

Andover returned to Conference action last Tuesday night at Tewksbury (7-3), and tomorrow night the Golden Warriors travel to Dracut High (6:30 p.m. JV, 7:45 varsity tapoff).

"We really and truly owe Tewksbury," said Ryser, a Tewksbury resident. "We made their season last year when they beat us (51-50 in a 5-15 season). That game was one of the lowlights of my coaching career. They threw a triangle-and-2 defense at us, covering Tim Perry and Mark Nardone man-to-man, and it worked for them. But they never should have beaten us."

"They're having a pretty good year this time around. They're ground-level kids who work very hard, and make you work very hard to beat them. But we have some 'dogs' too . . . kids like Perry, Chris Bartley and Tommy Lutz who dig and scrape and scratch and claw."

"To me Tewksbury is the biggest game of the year for us. I'm nervous about it, and I've never felt more pressure to win."

"We have the ability to beat everyone in this league, including Lowell (the rematch is February 19 in Lowell), and if we play to our capabilities we shouldn't lose again," noted Ryser.

Tewksbury's big guns include hefty center Mike Bosia (MVP of the Wilmington Christmas Tournament won by the Redmen), brothers Brian and Barry Dick, Jeff Vecchi, and sophomore guard Tim Boudreau (two-time Wilmington tourney All-Star) who played some of his youth basketball in Andover.

Dracut is led by current MVC scoring leader Mike "Fuzzy" Fauvel (23.3 average).

Andover, 68-58

Junior Capt. Tim Perry continued his torrid shooting with 30 points, while junior forward Doug Rotondi added 15 as Andover trimmed the visiting Lions.

AHS inched ahead 12-10 after one quarter, increased the lead to 31-22 by halftime, then traded buckets with Chelmsford in the final two periods.

"We respected Chelmsford because of the inside game they possess," stated Ryser. "They have some big people, and I'm always worried that Lutz or Rotondi will get in foul trouble."

"I also felt we could have beaten them by 30 points, but we didn't play quite as well defensively as we could have."

"I was impressed with their sophomore guard (lefty Steve Murphy). He's a good player with some strong inside moves, and we had trouble stopping him. He was poised against our pres-

Speed Limits

People often ask "What's the speed limit" where it's not posted. Within a thickly settled or business area, 30 or under is recommended and school zones are always 20 MPH.

Raytheon Grant

Raytheon Company has made a $13,500 grant to the Food for the Hungry International to be used toward the purchase of water well drilling equipment for the drought-stricken area of Ethiopia.

The equipment is capable of drilling almost 70 wells per year, which will provide drinking water for more than 30,000 people in the areas of Ethiopia and the Horn of Africa. In addition, the equipment will drill irrigation wells, covering 750-1000 acres of land on a yearly basis.

According to Asa Foster, product manager at Raytheon Service Company, Burlington, arrangements have been made with the Food for the Hungry to have their representatives teach the people how to operate the equipment. An agreement has been reached with the equipment manufacturer to match the Raytheon grant.

The equipment is expected to be delivered by the end of January.

Raytheon, headquartered in Lexington, is a diversified international company active in electronics, aviation, appliances, energy, construction and publishing.

sure, and did a lot of nice things for them.

"We worked hard to shut down their inside game, and offensively we attacked their man-to-man and eventually forced them to play zone.

"We were able to get the ball inside a lot, and once we went ahead by 20 (midway second half) they were forced to gamble.

"We didn't adjust to some situations as well as we should have," admitted Ryser, "but I'll take a 10-point victory over a good Division I Large School opponent any time."

Perry collected 12 of his game-high 30 points from the free throw line, while other AHS marksmen were Tom Lutz with 9 points, junior guard Chris Bartley six free throws, Craig Hammond 4 points, junior guard Mark Hebeisen a field goal and a strong all-around floor game, and Bill Weidman a pair of foul shots.

Also contributing quality minutes were sophomore Steve Redgate, Dan Carignan, Eric Deloury, John Klopacz (coming off a serious ankle sprain), Nick Lembo, Paul Lambers and Bob Manning.

Murphy paced Chelmsford with 15 points, Mark Dougherty added 14 and Mark Brighi 10.

Chelmsford finished with a 22-20 edge in field goals, but the Golden Warriors outscored the Lions by a wide 28-14 margin at the free throw line.

Andover, 65-31

Wilmington, 0-6 in the league and 1-9 overall, lost to Andover for the 42nd consecutive time as the Golden Warriors dominated from opening tap to final buzzer.

AHS bolted to a 17-6 first-quarter lead, stretched it to 37-14 by halftime, and led 52-23 after three periods.

Thirteen Andover players saw action and all 13 scored, Tim Perry and Doug Rotondi again leading the charge with 14 and 12 points respectively.

"This was the first time in 10 years of coaching that I've been in this type of situation," noted Ryser.

"We really had to guard against a letdown. I don't know that much about Andover High basketball history, although I have tremendous respect for Wil Hixon and what he accomplished here over the years.

"When I picked up the paper and saw that Andover had never lost to Wilmington in 41 games I immediately got worried. Our kids read the papers, too, and it's tough to motivate a team when they see a statistic like that.

"It would have been easy for them not to take Wilmington seriously, or not to work hard in practice. So we tried to impress upon them the idea they wouldn't want to be a part of the first Andover team to lose to Wilmington.

"In spite of their record, Wilmington has a few kids with the potential to cause problems. And we felt they would come after us hard, because no one wants to be on the opposite end of a streak like that.

"We felt we should be 25 or 30 points ahead at halftime," said Ryser, "and that's what happened. Lutz and Rotondi were hitting turn-arounds all day, and by the end of the first quarter we had already used 10 players.

"We went back to the starting five at the beginning of the second half, just to keep the momentum, and after the first unit busted Wilmington again we substituted freely the last quarter and a half.

"With the type of material we have we should be leading almost everyone in the league by a good margin by halftime. That way we'd be using 10 or 12 kids every night.

"I was really proud of our effort when it was over, and it showed people that we have the ability to blow some teams out if we play with intensity the whole game," concluded Ryser.

Lutz added eight points for Andover, Craig Hammond 7, Mark Hebesen 4, John Klopacz 4, Eric Deloury 4, Bill Weidman 3, Steve Redgate 2, Dan Carignan 2, Chris Bartley 2.

St. Robert's Teams Top Division

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's A and St. Robert's B remained tied for first place in the Intermediate Gold Division of the Andover Church Basketball League, SRA edging St. Augustine A, 24-23, and SRA stopping Christ Church A, 56-32, in recent games at the West Elementary School gym.

The same two teams won again last week, SRA slapping Christ A, 25-6, and SRB handling St. Augustine A, 24-16.

Both winners are now 4-1 overall.

Matt Perry of St. Robert's B is the division scoring leader with 59 points, closely followed by teammate Mike Talty with 55, Paul Lembo of St. Augustine A with 48, Dave Carnes (SRB) 37 and Kevin Murphy (SRA) 36.

St. Robert's A, 24-23

Paul Lembo of St. Augustine's A swished a pair of free throws with 30 seconds left to tie the game, 22-22, but with 0:03 on the clock the winners' George Willard converted the front end of a 1-and-1 to lift SRA to the exciting triumph.

Tough-luck St. Augustine A had led 8-4 after one quarter and 12-10 at halftime, but an 8-0 St. Robert's A run in the third quarter put them ahead 18-12.

St. Augustine battled back, Lembo leading the charge, forging the tie before Willard's clutch free throw.

Kevin Murphy, who fouled out with two minutes to go, led the St. Robert's attack with 11 points. Willard added 5, Mark Green 4 free throws, Billy Tobin a bucket and Patrick Hayes two charities.

Steve Spinelli and Dave Carriere played tough, aggressive defense.

Lembo was game-high for St. Augustine A with 14 points, eight in the final period, while Peter Reming pocketed 3, Paul Woods two free throws, Sean Gill a fieldgoal and Mike Tiberii a fieldgoal.

St. Robert's B, 56-32

Three players scaled double figures for the winners, as St. Robert's B shook pesky Christ Church A with a 34-8 run over the middle two quarters.

C-C trailed only 13-12 after one period, and outscored the victors 12-9 in the final stanza.

Dave Carnes pocketed a game-high 15 points for SRB, swishing seven straight free throws at one stretch in the first half, while Mike Talty added 14 points and Matt Perry 11.

Jeff Foley was close behind with 8 points, Hunter Lochmann delivered 6 in the first half, and Tim Martin added a second-period fieldgoal.

Andy Bedell, Dan French and Ryan Beal were other standouts.

Ken Gable, hitting several difficult shots in the opening stanza, paced the Christ Church effort with 10 points.

Matt Grant chipped in 8 points, Bob Nash 4, and single baskets were credited to Dave Ahouse, Mike Hagerty, Paul Lotheridge, Dave Blank and Chris McBride.

Steve Mollineaux also played well.

St. Robert's A, 26-5

SRA jumped to a commanding 19-0 halftime lead and was never threatened by Christ A.

Mark Green led the attack with 8 points, Patrick Hayes netted 5, Dave Carriere 4, George Willard 3, and single buckets were contributed by Kevin Murphy, Mark Shwetz and Steve Spinelli.

Steve Mollineaux swished three free throws and Matt Grant added a basket for C-C, which couldn't work the ball inside all night.

St. Robert's B, 24-16

Both teams were way off target in their shooting, particularly St. Augustine A whose usual outside touch deserted them.

Matt Perry's exceptional all-around floor game was the key for St. Robert's B, the winners moving ahead 7-2 after one quarter and never trailing thereafter.

Perry led all marksmen with 7 points, all in the first half, while Mike Talty pocketed 5 points, Hunter Lochmann 5, Ryan Beal 3, Dan French 2 and Andy Bedell 2.

Paul Lembo led the counter-attack with 6 points for St. Augustine A, Paul Woods and Pete Reming had 3 each, Patt Finn 2 and Mike Tiberii 2.

nane and Brian Novelline who combined to turn away 27 shot.

The Squirt B's started the new year with an impressive win over a strong Lynnfield team. Dan McKew started the scoring early with a hat trick before Lynnfield could get on the board. The rest of the game was a back-and-forth exchange of goals with four more goals by McKew (assist Heather Norton) and one each by Benji Ristuccia, Philip Smith and Heather Norton (assist Smith). The defense unit of Mike Lombard, Richie Enos, Brian Flanagan and Norton put on an impressive display of breaking up strong Lynnfield attacks. Forwards Ryan Doyle, Mark Pirri and Sean Donohue played a strong forechecking game which allowed the team to stay on top. Fred Sunderland played an excellent game in goal, turning away four out of five shots taken on him.

With illness reducing the B team to ten players, Andover broke out early and held on to a 2-0 edge over a strong Swampscott team. Philip Smith opened the scoring early on a pass from Adam Gurry and Gurry opened the second period with an unassisted goal of his own. Andover held their opponents scoreless until mid-point in the third period when the effects of double shifting over three strong Swampscott lines took its toll. Swampscott tallied two quick goals and the game ended in a tie. Forwards Benji Ristuccia, Sean Donohue and Mark Pirri played a strong two-way game. Brian Flanagan, Mike Lombard, Richie Enos and Heather Norton deserve special mention for playing alternately on defense and as forwards. Goalkeeper Fred Sunderland played an outstanding game, virtually holding the game together for his teammates.

This game was another in a string of frustrating disappointments for the Pee Wees. They continue to play well, but are thwarted in their attempts to get some points on the board. A total of 19 penalty minutes were called, 12 of them against Andover. As a result, Everett's three power-play goals were enough to defeat the locals.

The line of Keith Cutler, Peter Arthur and John Melillo was particularly sharp. Their crisp passing produced quick shots that were continually stopped by a sharp Everett goalie. Ed Chaisson, Colin Nix and Scott Halecki combined to apply plenty of pressure on the Everett defense. Alert play by Joe Iarrobino nearly produced a shorthanded goal. He stole the puck, fired off a neat pass to Halecki, only to have Halecki's shot turned away.

Defensemen Todd Allard, Chris Pothier and Jim Morris did an excellent job in containing the Everett offense and their efforts were backed up by the outstanding play of goalies Mike Mur-

The Pee Wee A's have been playing solid two-way hockey since the Concord Invitational Tournament in December and it all came together in superb fashion last Saturday as they beat previously undefeated Triton 3-1. Sean Darwin led the team with a goal and two assists while steady Ed Chaisson chipped in two goals. Colin Nix picked up an assist. Darwin's sparkling play was a driving force in keeping the offensive pressure on.

Scrappy John Melillo was a constant threat and had two good shots stopped early in the first period. Keith Cutler and Scott Halecki were also troublesome to the Triton defense with their fine work in front of the net.

The five-man defensive team continues to excel. Todd Allard had a super game as did Joe Jarrobin and Chris Pothier. Gary Bleszinski and Jim Morris were solid in this overall team effort.

Once again Brian Novelline and Mike Murnane gave lessons in netminding as they split the goaltending chores.

The Pee Wees euphoria was shortlived as they ran into textbook passing and close checking in a 6-1 loss to Danvers at the Twin Rinks on Sunday. Colin Nix scored the lone goal, deking out the goalie after taking a fine pass from Joe Iarrobino.

Gary Bleszinski made some standout defensive plays in this very physical game. Jim

Bantam B

Andover 5 - Everett 1

The Bantam B team increased their record to 8 wins, 1 loss and 1 tie to remain in first place in the Danvers League.

Everett, who had just beaten a highly regarded Reading team 4-2, were no match for Andover for the third straight time.

Harry Hawkins scored on a great pass from Tim Sullivan to open the scoring. After Steve Kachakian scored on a great rush and pass from Hugh Maginis, Everett put one by goalie Kirt Siefert who made two great stops. Kachakian returned the favor to Maginis as he made a great backhand pass for an easy goal.

The second period was all defense as Todd Roycroft, Dan Iandoli, Steve McSweeney and Glenn Driscoll continually broke up any attempts by Everett to get an attack going. Maginis put Andover up 4-1 with an unassisted goal at the end of the second period.

Forewards Sullivan, Derek Camarata and Harry Hawkins forechecked and hustled during the final period to further frustrate the Everett team. Peter Donegian rounded out the scoring on a nice pass from Kachakian who picked up his second assist.

Andover 6 - Reading 8

Andover and second-place Reading finally met in regular season and it was quite a battle.

Hugh Maginis got the team off to a quick start by scoring in the early minutes on a fine pass by defenseman Todd Roycroft, who carried the puck out to the red line. Reading tied it up soon after, but Derek Camarata lifted one in the upper corner after some hard work by Randy Moreau (assist) and Tim Sullivan. Reading threatened to run away with this one, showing speed, passing and discipline, and scored three unanswered goals to make it 4-2 after the five-minute mark of the second period.

Andover never gave up as Peter Donegian followed up a Maginis shot. Maginis made it 4-4 on a beautiful move on the Reading goalie. Hustle and good defense by Steve McSweeney, Glenn Driscoll, Todd Roycroft and Dan Iandoli kept it that way until the end of the second period.

Andover looked tired in the beginning of the third period. Three early period goals made it 7-4, but Andover came back again.

Maginis scored an unassisted goal after good forechecking by Harry Hawkins, Steve Kachakian and Peter Donegian. Donegian then made it close with a classic wristshot 20 feet. Reading answered with one more goal as Andover continually pressed, but became careless in their own end.

Kirt Siefert had some great saves and the goals scored on him were the result of excellent passing and followup shots by Reading.

Pee Wee B

In their first game Wednesday night, the Pee Wee B's were pitted against a hard-nosed Cape Ann team. The scoring was opened by Joe Ligouri, who whistled a shot past the goalie. This goal proved to be the game-winner as Mike Daley closed the door. Ligouri scored again from center ice. Mike Ristuccia recorded the other tally.

The team traveled to Saugus on Saturday to play a tough and determined Salem team. The first period ended 1-1 on a goal by Dan Feeley. The second stanza ended 2-2 on a hustling play by Joe Howard. The third period was up-and-down hockey with the referees calling a lot of incidental penalties. Mike Ristuccia scored the game-winner with about five minutes remaining. With excellent goaltending by Mike Daley (35 saves), Andover was able to hold on and win this hard-fought contest.

Squirt A

Andover 4 - Marblehead 6

Andover let this one elapse away in the final period and ended losing 6-4.

The first period ended in a 1-1 tie when Todd Norton was set up by linemates Andy Novelline and Ryan Moynihan. In the middle period, Moynihan pushed in a shot by defenseman Justin Hesenius that hit the post behind the goalie. Later Steve Neal assisted on Danny Trede's tally. The only scoring in the last period by Andover came when Moynihan set up Neal for their fourth and final goal, while the opposition scored three times to win the contest.

Andover 6 - Newburyport 4

Andover played the top team in the Valley League and posted a big victory in their climb towards first place.

The home team had not beaten Newburyport in the past two years.

Andover opened the scoring when Ryan Moynihan (assists Hesenius, Norton) scored on a breakaway. Newburyport tied it up and then went ahead 3-1 after two periods. Todd Norton got things rolling in the final period when he tipped in a feed from linemates Moynihan and Novelline. One minute later the same combination made it a 3-3 game. While goalie Jay Stella kept the opposition off the scoresheet, Andover continued to pressure the opposing netminder.

Andy Novelline was set up by Moynihan and Steve Neal only to have the game tied up once more with time running out.

However, with three minutes to play, Norton fed Moynihan for the go-ahead goal and then Neal put it safely out of reach as the scoreboard read Andover 6 - Newburyport 4.

The win put Andover's record at 9-3-0 with only one point separating Andover, North Andover and Newburyport in the race for first place.

Internships

The Smithsonian Institution is offering five-week internships to 30 students who will graduate from high school this year. Seniors may apply for positions in various departments and offices in the institution in areas including archaeology, biology, public affairs, photography, history, veterinary science, art, carpentry, library science and computer science.

Students will receive a living allowance and spend Tuesday through Friday in the host office, learning first-hand about career and academic possibilities. They will tour sites many visitors to Washington do not see, such as the Organization of American States and Embassy Row.

Interns from outside the Washington area will receive housing in a nearby university dormitory and will be reimbursed for transportation to and from Washington.

Intern '85 will offer two separate sessions: June 10-July 12 and July 15-August 16.

For applications and complete information, call or write Intern '85, Office of Elementary and Secondary Education, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560.

Applications must be requested by March 18.

The first wagon train arrived in California in 1841.

Hotel

insurance Company, of Boston, in September, said Jeton.

Holiday Inn of America's franchising operation is very interested in the hotels that Michael Walsh's father Thomas Walsh has developed and although the Walshes have no plans to build a Holiday Inn franchise, the company's Director of Development for New England region told THE TOWNSMAN that Holiday Inn was interested in a hotel in the Rt. 495-93 area.

"We need something nice and don't have anything nice in that area," said Thomas Foley in a telephone conversation with THE TOWNSMAN from his Braintree office. "We don't have an application from Mr. Walsh and we haven't done any studies yet. As far as we are concerned this is in the embryonic phases."

Foley said his company was interested in locating a "top-of-the-line" hotel in the area, adding that it would have to be in "the right market."

He said he would also have to be sure that a Holiday Inn franchise here wouldn't take business away from other Holiday Inn ventures. The closest Holiday Inns to Andover are hotels in Lawrence and Tewksbury.

The "top-of-the-line" Holiday Inn hotel is the "Crown Plaza" business, the closest of which Foley said was in Stamford, Conn. A Crown Plaza design demands what Foley said was an "uptown" area in an affluent business community.

"The ball is in his court," Foley said of Walsh. "He does build very lovely first class, award-winning facilities."

In May, Ocean Properties was denied a special permit from the Zoning Board when they decided that approval of the 299-room, six-story structure was beyond their authority. At that time board member Roger Collins said the hotel decision should be brought before Town Meeting voters.

Condo Plan

total building area reduced to the dimensions of the original plan, and that she would not support the 2.2 percent increase in ground coverage.

The planners told Jeton that they would like to meet with McNeil representatives, adding that they would like more information on the floor plans for the units and the total population density of the site.

Planner Michael Houghton had strong words against the new plan. "My feeling is, we've been had," he said. "These are single-family houses connected by a flimsy breezeway to call it a condo."

Last year's plans showed tightly-clustered "pods," Houghton said, while the new plans offered only the "pretense" of condominium design.

Peter Wotjkun of Windsor Street appeared before the board to say that Shawsheen neighbors will ask annual town meeting to rezone the land back to single-residence use.

About 14 single-family houses could be built on the Poor Street parcel, and given the changes in the condo plans since last year, "we would rather see single-family homes there," Wotjkun told the board.

Some people believed that if a girl planted marigolds in soil that contained the footprints of a man she loved, his love would grow and bloom with the marigold.

Frank Moreau and Danny Casey with Australian Antique

Ace Upholstering: Quality Guaranteed

With its scrolled mahogany and lustrous brocade, the Victorian couch radiates quality. Its owners had it shipped from Australia, where it had served their family for generations. Now they've entrusted it to Ace Upholstering for restoration.

"It's about 150 years old," says Ace owner Frank Moreau. "We stripped and re-glued the wood, refinished it, mended this section—" he points to a portion of the frame, which appears solidly one-piece—"and re-upholstered it. You should have seen it when we got it."

Moreau restores antique furniture, but he works with all kinds, including automobile interiors.

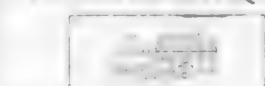

His shop is a study in variety—chairs from the Merrimac College library share space in the back room with a stripped living room sofa, while an assistant leans over an old leather desk chair, patiently prying tacks from its frame. "We can also fill your drapery needs," says Moreau.

Moreau says his prices are competitive, but he considers service and quality his shop's best selling points. "Most of the work I get is through recommendations," he says. Ace Upholstering backs its work with a strong guarantee: if, during a two-year time period, Ace's workmanship or materials are found to have a defect, Moreau will repair the piece without charge.

Ace has a large assortment of fabric samples, including leathers and high-quality materials by Waverly and Schumacher. Moreau likes to have his customers stop by to check out his and his staff's progress on their furniture. "My shop is open to everybody," he says. "I have nothing to hide."

For a free estimate on a piece or an entire room, call 683-2542. Ace Upholstering, at 164 S. Union St. in Lawrence, is open Mon-Fri 8-5; Sat 9-2; evenings by appointment.

theon plant to Kenilworth st. This would allow much of the traffic that normally heads north when it gets into Shawsheen Square to use the bridge, and cut down the tremendous tieup that occurs in the Haverhill st. area.
The company said this solution is only temporary, because the firm hopes that legislation will be enacted for the construction of an access road through the Den Rock area, out to Route 114 and eventually to Route 110.

The Board of Health is currently receiving applications a full knowledge of milk and dairy products analysis, plus an ability to evaluate farms, dairy equipment and retail establishments. Preference will be given to residents of Andover when the appointment is made.

10 Years Ago — January 1975

A late surge of candidates prior to the Monday filing deadline, including the return, at least at the moment of Selectman Alan F. French to that race, appears to have insured an interesting town election campaign. French made his decision to become a candidate for re-election on Friday when there was only a single candidate, George W.
Connors, seeking the position. By the 5:30 deadline on Monday, there were five candidates for the three-year term, including the incumbent.

The selectmen this week aired their views on the Sacred Heart School property, which is under study by a special committee, and indicated that it was good for school use consideration, but not for municipal office space. Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen said this week that the views of the selectmen included the long range view of using the East Junior High School as a government center for the town eventually, and possibly the transferring of the student population there to the Sacred Heart property.

Essex Street property originally owned by a prominent lawyer, will again house a legal talent over a century later. Atty. William J. Dalton, whose law firm includes Attys. Charles Dalton, Jr., Richard Asoian and John Mc-Garry, has purchased the properties at 10-12-14 Essex St., originally owned and built in 1807 by Eliphalet Pearson, Andover lawyer and an original trustee of Phillips Academy, and for whom Pearson Street is named. Dalton purchased the property for $155,000 and is in the process of renovating the buildings, one of which, the brick structure at 12 Essex St., will house his law offices.

SETTLING PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS

Persons injured in accidents are often contacted directly by an insurance company and asked to give details of the accident or discuss settlement. Talking to an insurance adjuster yourself or settling your claim before you understand its true value can be a very costly mistake. It is wise to consult an attorney as soon as possible and to refer all questions concerning the accident to your attorney. Contact Neil E. Onerheim or John S. Wessler. Initial consultation without charge or obligation.

Jan. 30, from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Approximately 19 percent of the blood supply is used for the treatment of cancer.
Patients who suffer from heart disease use 16 percent and the treatment of gastroin-

accounts for another 16 percent. Other patients desperately needing

- No buildings shall be nearer to each other at any point than the sum of the heights of their opposing exterior walls unless both such walls are unpierced, and walls shall be considered opposing if the angle between them is less than thirty (30) degrees;
- No structure shall be built within thirty (30) feet of any way and no structure or parking space shall be built or maintained within twenty (20) feet of any other exterior property line;
- Off-street parking shall be provided as per Section VI.A. of this Bylaw;
- The criteria of Section VIII.c. (Special Permits) of this Bylaw shall be met.

3. New combined multi-family dwelling and business construction, and conversion or expansion of existing property to multi-family dwelling or combined use (as per Section IV.B. of this Bylaw):

- No building in a business district shall be erected within fifteen (15) feet of a residence in an abutting residence district;
- If more than fifty (50) percent of the frontage of a block in a business district is improved and all buildings are set back more than ten (10) feet, then the minimum setback on such street frontage shall be the minimum setback requirement;

4. Conversion of an Existing Nonresidential Structure of 50,000 Square Feet Gross Floor Area or More to Multifamily Dwelling Use, and Parking to Service Such Use on the Same or Ancillary Parcel (as per Section IV.B. of this Bylaw):

Large Structure Conversion: A Special Permit for conversion of a residential structure of fifty thousand (50,000) square feet gross floor area or more to multi-family dwelling use may be granted by the Board of Appeals in districts where authorized by Section IV.B., "Table of Use Regulations", provided that the following are complied with:

- The requirements of Section V, "Dimensional Requirements" need not be met, except that any addition or extension must observe minimum yard depth and maximum height requirements, and may not increase lot coverage by more than five (5) percent of lot area. Lot area plus land committed to public recreation or conservation use within six hundred (600) feet of the structure shall equal at least three thousand five hundred (3,500) square feet per dwelling unit;

- Off-street parking shall meet the following minimum requirements in lieu of those specified elsewhere in this Bylaw, either on the premises or on a parcel ancillary to the premises with spaces located within three hundred fifty (350) walking feet of the building entrance being served:

5. New Multiple Family Dwelling Construction - Attached Cluster (as per Section IV.B. of this Bylaw)

The Planning Board may grant a Special Permit for Attached Cluster to allow the construction of multiple dwellings subject to the criteria of Section VIII.C. (Special Permits) of this Bylaw and to the following conditions:

- Purposes - to promote and encourage alternative forms of housing which are accessible to existing town services, to protect the natural environment and to conserve open space, to promote energy conservation, to allow development within the existing capacities of town services, and to provide housing which will not be unreasonably detrimental to the established or future character of the neighborhood and Town

- Density - the maximum number of dwelling units shall be determined by dividing the Buildable Area by the minimum lot size allowed in the district. For each dwelling unit of one thousand (1,000) square feet or less, the applicant is entitled to a credit of fifty (50) percent of an additional dwelling unit of smaller size. "Buildable Area" is calculated by subtracting from the total area of the parcel a number which is ninety (90) percent of the area shown as wetlands on the Town of Andover wetland maps;

c. Location

- The parcel shall have a minimum of fifty (50) feet of frontage on an existing public way which has sufficient capacity to accommodate the projected traffic flows from the project;

- there shall be town water and sewer available in said public way, and said water and sewer lines shall have sufficient capacity to accommodate the project;

d. Dimensional Requirements

Areas which are unsuitable for development shall include, but not be limited to: floodplains; wetlands as shown on the Town of Andover wetland maps; slopes of greater than 15 percent; and areas with ledge closer than four (4) feet to the surface of the ground;

- OPEN SPACE shall comprise a minimum of sixty (60) percent of the total area of the parcel, and at least fifty (50) percent of the Open Space shall be accessible and usable for recreation purpose;

- Prior to the sale of any dwelling unit, the applicant shall submit a Conservation Restriction on the Open Space to the Planning Board for its review, modification and approval, and shall record the approved Conservation Restriction in the Registry of Deeds. In the event of the sale of any dwelling unit prior to the recording of an approved Conservation Restriction, the Town shall have a lien on said real property for the value of the Conservation Restriction

- Prior to the sale of any dwelling unit, the applicant shall convey all Open Space land to either the Town, a non-profit corporation or a homeowners' association. If the applicant intends to convey to a non-profit corporation or a homeowners' association, the applicant must obtain the prior approval of the Planning Board

f. Design Standards

- There shall be not less than three (3) nor more than six (6) dwelling units in each building;

- Each dwelling unit shall have a separate exterior entrance to the unit at ground floor level;

- (11) No entrance or exit from the development to an existing public or private way may be allowed unless there are slight distances of at least two hundred and fifty (250) feet in both directions on the public or private way, and unless no other driveway, public way or private way intersects the existing roadway within one hundred and fifty (150) feet of the proposed entrance or exit way.

(4) Further Requirement For Information.

After the opportunity for review by other boards and agencies, the Planning Board may require the applicant to supply more specific information about the proposed development, as per questions and comments of the reviewing boards and agencies. Such additional information shall be submitted within ten (10) days of the expiration of the previous twenty (20) days as set forth in Section VI.P.5.g.(3) above.

Chapter 40A, the specific purposes of Section VI.P.5.a of this Bylaw, and the long range plan of the Town; that it will not have a detrimental impact on the neighborhood, will be designed with due consideration for health and safety, and is superior to a conventional subdivision plan in preserving open space, minimizing environmental disruption, allowing more efficient provision of services, or allowing for greater variety in prices and types of housing stock.

- (c) When issuing or denying a Special Permit for Attached Cluster under this Section of the Bylaw, the Planning Board shall issue to the applicant and shall file with the Town Clerk a written decision which shall include: (1) a copy of the plan; (2) a finding that the plan is in harmony with the purposes and intent of the Zoning Bylaw and this Section; (3) a list of conditions imposed by the Planning Board; (4) if the Planning Board disagrees with the recommendations of the Conservation Commission or the Board of Health, the reasons shall be stated in writing.

CREATING REAL ESTATE WEALTH

Creating wealth by owning real estate is simple. Really wealth is created by increasing the property's market value. Although inflation helps increase market value of most real estate, smart property investors do not rely on inflation alone. A real estate wealth creator is a person who improves real estate at a cost that is less than the marketplace will pay for the increased value of those improvements.

"Improvements" mean not only new construction but also renovation of existing structures and creating new use for underutilized buildings or underused land.

For example, if a person spends one dollar to improve his or her home and, as a result, that home's market value goes up by two dollars or more, real estate wealth has been created. The person who spends $10,000 adding a bedroom to his home may be adding $20,000 to its market value if there is a demand in that community for larger homes.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Ponchartr Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

SELLING YOUR HOUSE

By Lou Patracone

HOW MUCH FIXUP?

How much should you invest in your home if you are planning to sell? Enough to make it look good, but nothing major. Cosmetic improvements will usually be more than paid back, but not substantial renovations.

First step is to make the place clean and clutter-free. Time spent throwing away junk will pay off better than anything else. A home looks bigger with less in it - and you'll have to pare down your belongings before you move, anyway.

If updating is needed, add another bath. A house sells better if it has at least one and a half, preferably more. Kitchen renovation need not be top-of-the-line. Don't overimprove so that you price yourself out of the market.

Keep in mind that your taste and a buyer's may not match. It's smart to stay with classic, understated colors and patterns. You may not love them - but at least no one will HATE them.

Selectmen On Television

Come soon to a television set near you. The Board of Selectmen.

At the request of the League of Women Voters, the selectmen Monday night voted unanimously (with two members absent) to allow live broadcasts of their Monday night meetings over Andover's local cable television channel.

Selectman William Dalton moved to allow Rollins Cablevision to telecast the board's meetings, "as long as the television lights and cameras are not too intrusive, so as to interfere with the business of the meetings."

Chairman Donn Byrne, who serves as a liaison to the town's Cable Television Advisory Committee, said the meetings would be broadcast live via a single, fixed-position camera. He said it was unlikely that special lights would be needed in the brightly-lit conference room at town offices on Bartlet Street, where selectmen's meetings are usually held.

Selectman Charles Wesson said he hoped televising board meetings would help "extend government to the people and make it more interesting" — without detracting from "the efficiency of the meetings." (He explained that he hoped would-be television stars would not start populating selectmen's meetings.)

In a letter to Byrne, League of Women Voters President Chris Holmes urged the board to broadcast their meetings because "many of our fellow townsmen are unable to attend evening meetings."

Cable television would help residents become "more fully informed about the many issues being dealt with by the town's most important and widely responsible boards," Holmes wrote.

She noted that the School Committee would be asked to broadcast its meetings as well.

Insurance And Real Estate — Both At Howe

The Howe Real Estate and Insurance agencies

Their business is growing so fast that the Howe Real Estate Agency Inc., and Howe Insurance Agency of Andover Inc., has filled new office space before builders have finished with their addition.

Located at 4 Punchard Avenue, both Howe companies will soon have their "consumer services" on the first floor of their building, said Douglas Howe Jr., vice-president and treasurer of the real estate business.

Douglas Howe Sr. presides over both the real estate and insurance businesses, which are managed by his sons.

Howe Real Estate employs 14 agents, said Doug Howe, who have residential listings in North Andover and Andover. Homes in Methuen and Lawrence are listed with the new Methuen office of Howe Real Estate Agency of Methuen, said Doug Howe.

Another realtor sells commercial property in Greater Lawrence and Salem, N.H., out of the Andover office, and an appraiser also works in Andover for the company.

"We can meet all the real estate and insurance needs of the buying public in Andover," said Doug Howe. "No one else is doing that."

The real estate office is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., every day.

Clifford Howe, vice-president and treasurer of the insurance agency, said the insurance side of the Howe businesses feature full-service property and casualty insurance as well as a financial services division.

The staff at the agency represents seven companies and deals in business, home, automobile, life and disability insurance. They also provide information and service mutual funds, individual retirement accounts and tax shelters, he added.

"Our agency offers more financial services than any other," said Cliff Howe. The insurance office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

"THE COMPANY THAT TAKES CARE OF THIS IS MORE THAN A VENDOR. THEY'RE A PARTNER."

Don Schwartz, Vice President, Marketing, Computer Town

"At Computer Town, we depend on our telephone system for about 60% of our business.

"Which means that if the phone system goes down, we stand to lose upwards of $25,000 a day in sales."

So, when New England's largest and fastest growing single location computer retailer needed to upgrade their internal and external communication system, they came to a company they could depend on without question. They came to PRECOM.

"Of course we liked PRECOM's price and service," Schwartz explains. "But what we really bought was their know-how.

"We needed a telephone company who could understand who we are and what we're trying to do, and then tell us how we could use a telephone system to do it more efficiently. If they could save us some money in the bargain, all the better."

PRECOM filled that order at Computer Town by upgrading three NEC 1648 electronic key systems at the store, warehouse and financial operations buildings to a single NEC 12A PABX (private automatic branch exchange) capable of handling up to 48 trunk lines and 360 individual phone stations.

"Before recommending the 12A, PRECOM analyzed our phone bill, our routing needs, installation costs, growth and future requirements," says Schwartz.

"And what they gave us will result in a substantial net savings over the long haul, while easily accommodating even our most ambitious growth plans."

For a company that has grown 100% per year for its first four years, and 160% last year, that's saying a lot.

To find out what a partnership with PRECOM can say about your business, call us. On whatever phone system you're currently using.

DeWolfe-Emerson Takes Over Luby Real Estate Firm

Ralph Luby has sold his real estate firm to the DeWolfe Companies Inc., of Milton.

A well-known name in local real estate, the 76 Main St. company will now be called DeWolfe-Emerson Realtors. The name includes DeWolfe's recent acquisition of Emerson Real Estate, a large real estate company in Lowell. Bradford O. Emerson has been retained by the combined firms to serve as chairman of the board. The Andover office will serve as the regional sales office for DeWolfe-Emerson.

DeWolfe-Emerson offers relocation services provided through two independent relocation centers which handle over 1,200 transferring families each year who relocate to the eastern Massachusetts area.

Also available are financial services such as first mortgages and insurance coverage, properties listed in the "distinctive properties" listing, professional property management and an increased inventory of properties from the firm's membership in eight multiple listing services.

There will also be an expansion of the firm's commercial and investment subsidiary T.E.C., which will focus on industrial and technological growth in the area.

With the purchase of Luby Real Estate DeWolfe now operates 15 companies in eastern Massachusetts.

Look For New Lines At Petersen's

Owners Lee and Dee Zolner have used their experience with large companies to make R.L. Petersen's, which they have owned for just six months, such a success.

Lee Zolner was an account manager with Elizabeth Arden in Boston and wife, Dee, was an assistant buyer with Filene's in Boston, and later a department manager there.

Their shop at 39 Main St. draws on their cosmetic and fashion experience. Lee said Petersen's strength was in the cosmetics they carry including Estee Lauder, Clinique, Elizabeth Arden and Lancome, as well as a number of "top" fragrances.

Also featured is a wide selection of lingerie and hosiery, jewelry, accessories. Dansk products, which Lee said are always 20 percent off the regular prices, and handbags for day and evening wear.

The shop added a selection of coats this fall the Lee said were very successful. Also popular, he added, are the Christian Dior lingerie. This fall designs by Lloyd Williams and Victoire were introduced in the shop, too.

Lee said he and Dee are looking to delete some lines and improve others, especially their sportswear and coat selection. Dee has spent time buying for the spring in Boston and will travel to New York to look at summer collections of clothing, he said.

Petersen's is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Fridays, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

Thompson's New Rooms To Open Soon

In their continuing tradition of fine family dining, Thompson's Restaurant, a North Andover landmark for 44 years, is in the midst of its first major expansion since 1967.

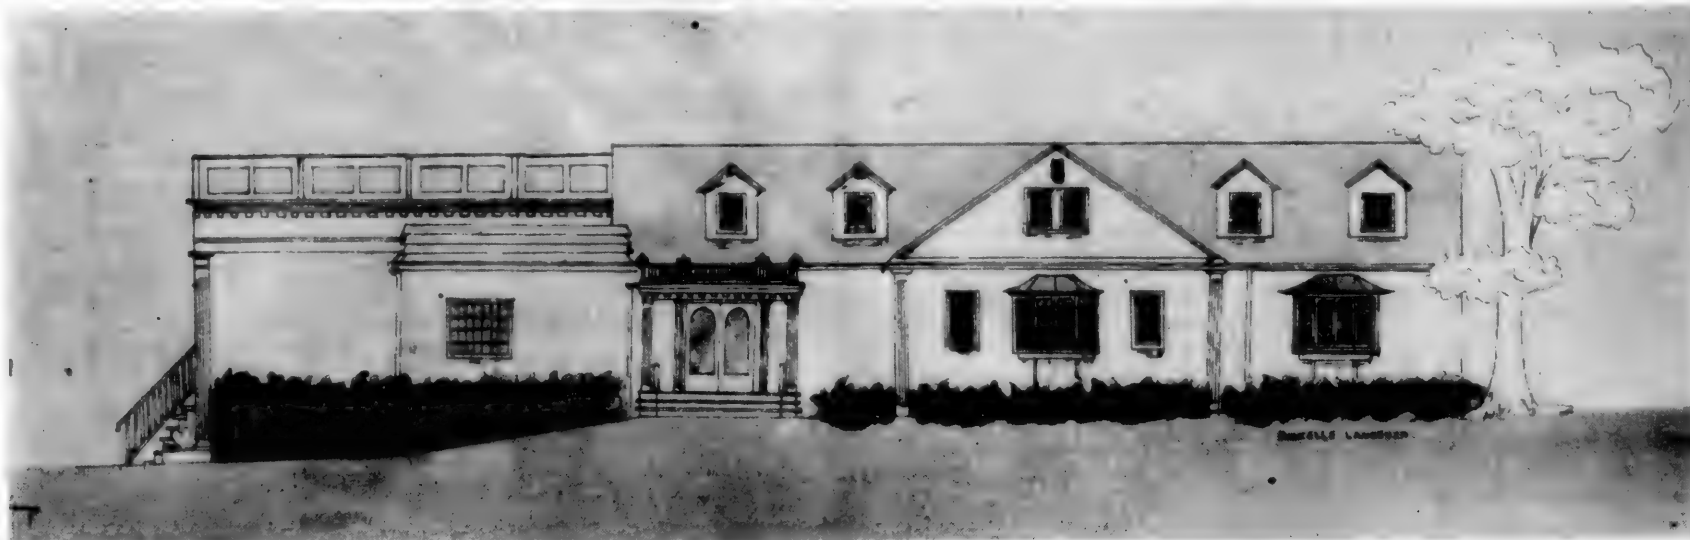

Owner and manager Stuart Thompson said that when finished the restaurant, located at the junction of Routes 114 and 125, will include such new areas as a greenhouse lounge, a split-level bar, two new private dining rooms, a multi-purpose function room and a new look for the existing dining room.

The exterior of the building will also be upgraded, he said. The changes are the designs of Andover architect Eric Brainard. But, dining in the main dining room will have the same atmosphere, said Thompson. The restaurant was founded in 1914 by George Thompson, and his son, Sidney Thompson, Stuart's father.

Thompson's will stay open throughout the construction, which will be completed in February, said Thompson. The work is being done by Ted's Construction Co., of Woonsocket, R.I., a company that Thompson said specializes in renovations.

Merrimack Valley Works Product Used In Chicago

A new telephone transmission system, manufactured at AT & T's North Andover Merrimack Valley Works made its debut in downtown Chicago in December.

Called the Western Electric D-5 Digital Terminal System, this new product is the latest in state-of-the-art transmission of telephone signals. Work on the D-5 is the result of several years of research and development by AT & T Bell Laboratories and the application of technology from manufacturing processes at the Merrimack Valley Works, on Osgood Street.

This new system takes advantage of the large calculating power and memory of today's microprocessors. The first two of many planned D-5 systems went into service for Illinois Bell for the busy downtown office section of Chicago.

The D-5 is a major breakthrough in the application of computer technology to a wide variety of customer needs, according to AT & T officials who believe transmission terminals such as the D-5 are at the heart of new networks by which telephone companies will be able to provide business services such as Data, WATTS and foreign exchange lines easily and economically for their customers.

The D-5 system is the latest in a series of digital systems manufactured at the Merrimack Valley Works. Robert Cowley, general manager of the plant, said that the digital systems, beginning with the D-1 which was developed in 1962, have been and will continue to provide the major portion of the Merrimack Valley plant's work.

Corporate managers are pleased with the D-5 development. Said Bell Scheerer, executive director of AT & T Bell Laboratories at Merrimack Valley, "we in Bell Laboratories have always taken pride in designing high quality products and our colleagues in AT & T Network Systems take pride in delivering high quality products to our customers. The D-5 system will continue this proud heritage."

Always A Discount At Showroom

Calling her first few months in Andover a success Pauline Kellan, owner of the Lingerie Showroom, in the Park Street Village mall, is looking forward to a good year in 1985.

Kellan's two month old business was the first to open in the Park Street shopping center, being developed by Robert Finlayson, of Andover.

The Lingerie Showroom offers a variety of colors, sizes and styles in famous maker names that Kellan said always sell for 30% to 70% off regular prices.

Kellan, who lives in North Andover, said that a marketing background is not essential for her business to be successful. Instead, she said, what it takes is a sense of the business world, a real feel for organization, common sense and "people sense."

And her staff, said the owner, helps fulfill those needed qualities. Manager Mary O'Connor, formerly a manager and instructor at Gloria Stevens, runs daily operations at the Showroom. Polly Harper and Dee Haydusko combine sales know-how and the gracious touch, said Kellan, which make the Lingerie Showroom a success.

Ginny's Opens At One Elm Square

One of Andover's newest clothing shops is Ginny's, a women's clothing shop located at One Elm Square.

Owner Barbara Nolin, of Andover, said her shop "fills a need" here in town. Nolin opened Ginny's at the end of December. She is joined at the shop by buyer and manager Catherine DeQuattro, also from Andover.

"We are very unique," said Nolin. "We researched this for more than a year. There is a market for this type of a store."

Nolin features women's sportswear, dresses and accessories including clothing by Dennis Goldsmith, Baldanza, Echo scarves and a variety of handcrafted accessories.

"There is a certain concept that we have here," said DeQuattro. "Everything relates and we have a certain kind of look that goes with all age groups."

Ginny's is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Fossella Family Welcomes Customers At Enzo's

Personal service for each of his customers and the family atmosphere at his Elm Square shop is what makes Enzo of Andover special said owner Enzo Fossella.

The 32-year Andover resident said his fashion design and tailoring background are the "heart of the store."

With wife, Lina, and daughters, Joanne, Theresa and Lisa, the Fossella's manage the entire business. Enzo explained that Joanne, a student at Merrimack College, is working on the financial end of the business and with the new computer system Enzo recently installed. Theresa and Lisa work with the displays and inventory, he added.

Enzo's men's fashions include suits, tuxedos, sport coats and Burberry raincoats, slacks, 100 percent cotton shirts, as well as blends, silk neckties and bow ties. The store also carries Italian, English and a domestic line of shoes. And one-of-a-kind sweaters that Fossella creates especially for his store.

His sweaters feature designs in cashmere, alpaca, lambswool and Shetland wool, he said.

Original designs for women are also available said Fossella. He will custom make a suit, skirt, slacks or coat for a woman, the designer said.

"I will develop a design that will be only hers," said Fossella.

Also for women are long coats and Burberry raincoats, ultra suede suits, tailored wool suits, gaberdine skirts, sweaters and Italian leather gloves.

Fossella has a line of sportswear called Maser of Austria that he said features knit slacks, shirts and other casual designs for both men and women.

"I believe I have the greatest quality merchandise," said Fossella. "The store stands for the very best in quality."

The store hours are 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Thursday and Saturday. On Fridays Enzo's is open until 8 p.m.

Peek Cited In Book

Robert L. Peek

The financial planners at Peek Financial Services, in Windham, N.H., are expanding their services and will offer pension administration to its customers, according to Robert L. Peek, the company president.

The four-year-old business plans to offer design, installation, employee communications, federal reporting, investment and trust services as part of the new pension program. In addition, the company has hired two certified public accountants to expand its regular financial services that include income tax preparation and personal and business tax planning.

The Windham company was recently cited in a book by Harvard University's Allan Schmidt called "Computing for Profits." Schmidt wrote of Peek's wide range of services through the use of their computerized analysis and communications systems.

The software developed by Peek is now being refined for sale to financial planners throughout the country, says company President Peek. The computer programs were recently featured in a seminar given to the 128 Accounting Forum.

When complete, the Peek System will allow clients to update and review their data base by making entries in their home or business computers, said Robert Peek, thus giving them the ability to compete with the giant corporations.

Second Generation Running Doherty

Jim and Bill Doherty say it's been an important year for their 50 year old insurance and real estate companies.

Located here at 21 Elm St., and at 132 Main St., in North Andover, the Doherty Insurance Agency Inc. and Doherty Realty Agency Inc., were first started by Bill Doherty in 1934 in the Musgrove Building. Now a second generation of Dohertys, Mary, Jay and Sheila, are running the insurance business. And the younger Dohertys know what their customers want, say elders Bill and Jim.

"We are well aware of the changing needs of today's insurance customer," said Mary M. Doherty, vice-president and general manager of the Doherty Insurance. "Increased salaries, better lifestyles, working women and a highly competitive work force all call for an increased demand for professional insurance advice."

Adds Doherty President Sheila M. Doherty, "we find ourselves involved in not only the traditional automobile and homeowner policies but with the increased awareness of economic security and financial planning we have also become more involved in tax shelters, estate planning and corporate benefit design."

But it's personal service that the Doherty's pride themselves on. Jay Doherty said that "with all the technology and sophistication that has become a part of our business the fact still remains that our clients are doing business with the Doherty family. We've been with you in the past and plan to be there for you in the future."

Dyonics Leads Medical Equipment Field

A recognized leader in the orthopedic instruments field is Andover's Dyonics, a subsidiary of Rorer Group Inc., located at 160 Dascomb Road.

Dyonics officials forecast growth in their market which has increased with the growing number of arthroscopic procedures, this year numbering 700,000.

Dyonics entered the arthroscopy field in 1971 when they introduced a revolutionary product for viewing the inside of joints. This product, called the Needlescope, is a telescope using fiber optics which transmits images from within the damaged joint onto a television screen. Dyonics was the first company to develop the micro-surgical instruments that cut, drill and abrade tissue from joints. The instruments allow physicians to treat a large number of joint problems ranging from torn cartilage to osteoarthritis.

The actual arthroscopic surgery is accomplished by making three small incisions in the joint. This procedure is much less traumatic to joints than other operations resulting in shorter hospital stays and reduced post-operative discomfort. Arthroscopy can be done either on an out-patient basis or, if performed in a hospital, requires only an overnight stay.

The surgical procedure has added new dimensions to the field of sports medicine. Both Olympic gold medalists Joan Benoit and Mary Lou Retton won their awards less than two months after arthroscopic surgery.

New Golf From VW At Bardetti

Bardetti Volkswagen, in Haverhill, has Volkswagen's newest designs, the Golf, GTI and the Jetta, all of which have received good words from the auto magazines, said Bardetti officials.

At a three-day meeting in California over 100 journalists learned about the new cars and the results include comments in Popular Mechanics "...it's hard to find fault with the way these little German-designed jewels drive...as drivers' cars, they're so good, in fact, that we can't wait for the hot GTI and GLI versions...the new Golf oozes virtue from its every pore."

From Motor Trend magazine comes "...it (the Golf) feels more like a junior Audi 5000 than anything you'd expect to be wearing the famous VW initials."

"The new Golf and Jetta are as resilient as a 14-year-old gymnast," says Car and Driver magazine. "Rough roads just don't faze them...so chalk up two for VW of America. They said they were going to put German back into their cars, and they did."

The Haverhill Volkswagen dealership is located at 915 South Main St., on Route 125.

Travel The World With Uniglobe

If the cold weather has you down, Howard Hering suggests a visit to his Uniglobe Valley Travel agency for a look at a video about Bermuda, Hawaii or perhaps a Caribbean cruise.

A new feature at the 89 Main St. travel agency, the travel video machine lets customers see their destinations "in living color," said Hering, an Andover resident.

The almost two-year-old business is part of the Uniglobe franchise which includes approximately 250 offices, said Hering.

A full-service agency, Uniglobe offers corporate and family vacations, group travel rates and incentive travel packages. The business features bookings on all airlines, cruise ships, trains and busses.

With a strong U.S. dollar in Europe and Mexico, now is the time to travel, said Hering. And "ultimate super saver" flights for travel in the continental United States makes flying more inexpensive than ever.

"Our goal is to provide the best professional service to all our clients," said Hering.

Uniglobe is open 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays, Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and evenings by appointment.

Andover And Lawrence Home To Dahers

It's special service for each customer that has made the Daher name synonymous with shoes.

For 23 years the Daher family has been in the business of selling fine shoes, handbags and accessories, first in their Methuen store, at 89 Swan St., and for almost two years in Andover. The business was started by Sally Daher and her late husband, Charles Daher. Son and daughter, John and Joyce, are now involved in the business with John, vice-president of the business, managing the Andover store. Joyce is the treasurer and spends her time in the Methuen store. Mother Sally is Daher's president.

In Andover the six employees "cater to the customers," says John Daher. "We'll special order anything and we won't sell anything that isn't a quality item."

Daher's features Florsheim and Bally designs for men as well as Herman Survivor, Timberland and Bass shoes and boots for men and women. In women's styles they have a full line of Etienne Aigner designs as well as Sperry, Bandolino and Evan Picone shoes, to name a few. Children's Stride-Rite shoes are also featured in the Andover store.

Hours at the 89 Main St. store are 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 9:30 to 8 p.m., on Fridays and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., on Saturdays.

Antique Lace Dresses At Pappagallo

It's the special things Vena Coco does for her customers that make them return to Pappagallo.

It is not uncommon for Coco, an Andover resident, to open her Olde Andover Village shop to busy professional women and homemakers who can't make it to the store during the day. And she has held a number of free workshops to show interested women how to use accessories such as the scarf and belt session she held this fall.

"I try to provide a good quality at a fair price," said Coco, who has owned her shop for almost seven years, "something a bit different, distinctive and unique."

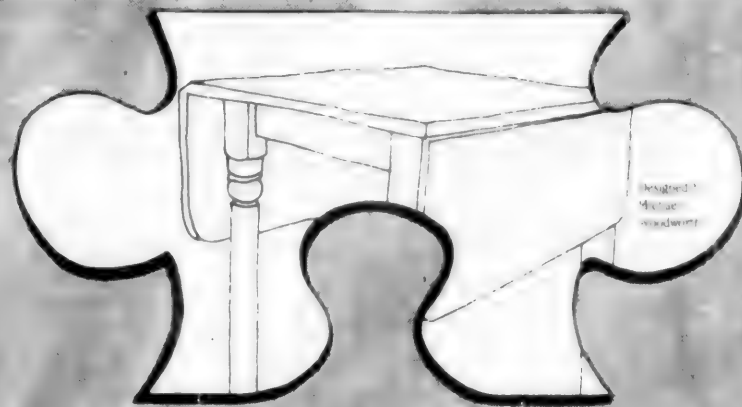

For the first time Coco is buying items for the shop from Europe where she said she has found some "fine quality merchandise, especially handcrafted items, that we can provide for Andover."

She has also introduced a one-of-a-kind line of dresses designed by a New England woman who uses her own collection of antique laces and lines in her designs. Coco persuaded the designer to let her show a few dresses in her window and later began exclusively selling the dresses.

"I have a special feeling about them," she said. "It's a dying art and there is value in each dress."

Browsers at Pappagallo will find a large selection of shoes, stoles, shawls, capes, leather bags and shoes, jewelry and sportswear.

Pappagallo is open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and evenings by appointment.

Country Traditionals Can furnish the Missing Piece for your Dream..... or the Dream Itself

Country Traditionals sells more than furniture:
They furnish ideas.

"Some of our customers build their dreams one piece at a time," says Fran Woodworth, president of Country Traditionals. "Some of our customers have a need to tie together existing pieces so they work or feel better; some return to furnish second homes, their condominiums, their children's apartments. Our craftsman and staff do it all!"

Sure Country Traditionals furnishes condominium complexes, complete homes, even department store displays, but their greatest pleasure is solving puzzles. They solve, "What works best in a get-away retreat?" "What piece will complete my kitchen?" "Which piece is best for care-free maintenance?" Their high volume of return customers shows they sell more than furniture; they furnish ideas. Let Country Traditionals furnish your dream.

Building Renovations Begin In February At Scanlon's

Things will be changing inside and outside William Scanlon's new location in the Barnard building, on Main Street.

The hardware business will expand to include a $2.2 million project that will see office space in the downtown Andover building. Scanlon said he already has a building permit for his project, adding that he plans to begin work on the building at the end of February.

The changes he is planning include renovating the basement and the third floor, removing the metal shed behind his building and adding a three-story addition there, upgrading the parking lot behind the building, and restoring the front of the building to how it originally looked when it was built in 1910.

Both Ford's Coffee Shop and the Hughes Pharmacy will stay in the building, said Scanlon.

Scanlon got approval from the Andover Industrial Development Finance Authority in December for $1.6 million in tax-free, low-interest revenue bonds to finance his work. The Barnard building was the former home of Cole Hardware, a downtown fixture for more than 30 years.

Bernardin Begins 38th Year

A familiar business in Andover is the Bernardin Agency, now in its 38th year here.

The insurance business is an independent agency, said Eugene Bernardin, vice-president, and son of President Eugene Bernardin Jr., who began his business with $25 in his pocket and a file cabinet and desk he salvaged from the town dump.

The Bernardin Agency has changed a lot since 1947 and five moves later the business is located at 26 Chestnut St. Bernardin said the company offers full lines of both business and personal insurance including automobile, homeowner, life, health and disability, to name a few of the personal insurance options available. On the business side is automobile and product liability insurance, property and commercial auto as well as contractors policies and a number of other packages. The company also sells bonds, he said.

Because they are an independent agency, Bernardin thinks his company works with an emphasis on service.

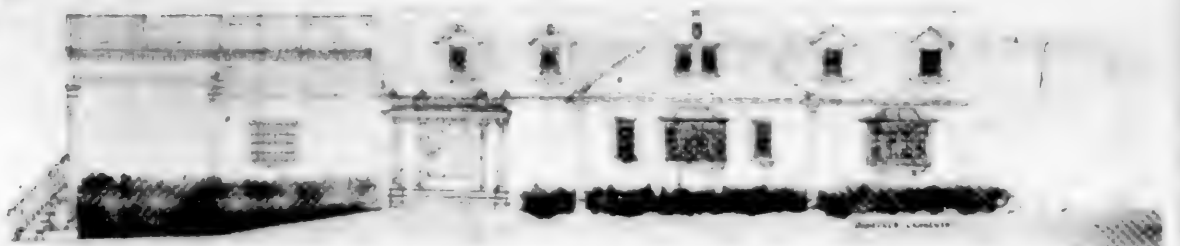

"Out loyalties are with the consumer," he said.

The agency is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Friday.

Construction Begins On Land Near Route 93

Vazza Associates, Braintree, a professional real estate development firm, has begun construction on Andover/93 Office Center, a 122,000-square-foot first class office building on the River Road/Route 93 interchange in Andover. Meredith & Grew, Incorporated, the Boston-based full service real estate company, has been named exclusive leasing agent.

Located on a ten-acre site, Andover/93 Office Center is visible from Route 93 on River Road, 1½ miles from Route 495.

The building features two three-story wings connected by a three-story terraced atrium. The architect is Joseph J. Schiffer & Associates, Newton. Occupancy is scheduled for September 1985.

James O'Hare of Vazza Associates notes that the Route 495/93 area has attracted a number of high image office users due to the area's proximity to Boston, its skilled labor force and fine residential communities.

Vazza Associates developed, owns and manages in excess of 2,500,000 square feet of office, research and development and commercial real estate in Massachusetts and Florida.

Caron Will Try For Andover Funeral Home

Combining their experience as funeral directors in North Andover and Andover, John D. Caron and Malcolm Lundgren are working hard to establish another funeral home here in town.

According to Caron, a second funeral home is "a much needed professional service because of the closing of two funeral homes in town during the past two years." He will attempt to locate here, on Elm Street, this spring.

Lundgren's father, Everett Lundgren, established the Lundgren Funeral Home in Andover in 1913. As a youngster Malcolm began assisting his father and in 1932 became a licensed funeral director. His return to funeral service this past year was prompted by his concern for Andover residents, said Caron, who were without a centrally located funeral facility.

Lundgren joined Caron in his North Andover business and the two men are working to establish a funeral home at 42-44 Elm St.

Like Lundgren, Caron joined his father in the funeral business. In the 1940s R. George Caron established his funeral home in North Andover. Son John graduated from the New England College of Applied Sciences, where he has served as an instructor, and became a licensed funeral director, joining his father in 1959.

Now Caron's daughter, Mary Lou Caron, a health administration major at the University of Lowell, is a registered licensed apprentice funeral director under the direction of her father and Lundgren. Son, John D. Caron Jr., a senior at Phillips Academy, has shown an interest in the family business, said his father, and will work as a registered apprentice this summer.

Caron is active in many Merrimack Valley organizations including the American Cancer Society, Merrimack College Board of Directors, Men of Merrimack, Lions Club, Elks and the Bon Secours Men's Guild.

Save For Retirement With A First Essex IRA

Individual retirement accounts (IRAs) have become a popular way to save for retirement and IRAs are just one feature at the First Essex Savings Bank, located at 211 North Main St.

Since 1982 the number of Americans with IRAs has jumped from 5 million to 37 million. IRAs provide a good investment, say Michael Nash and Gena Paris, INVEST representatives at First Essex. Fewer people are counting on Social Security alone for their retirement income and more are moving towards IRAs for tax advantages and security later in life.

The First Essex has seven other locations including branches in North Andover and Methuen and five offices in Lawrence.

Two features make an IRA different from an ordinary savings account. First, the amount one may contribute may be deducted directly from taxable income. A contribution of $2,000 can save $800 in federal income taxes, for those in the 40 percent tax bracket, and $600 for persons in a 30 percent tax bracket. Second, the money is allowed to compound in the IRA account until it is withdrawn when the holder is between 59½ and 70½ years old. By that time, assuming that the IRA holder is fully or partially retired, their tax bracket should be lower and they should owe less in taxes.

Those under the age of 70½ may contribute 100 percent of their earned income to an IRA, up to $2,000 or $2,250 if one person is unemployed in a couple with IRAs. If both spouses earn income each may contribute $2,000 separately for a maximum total of $4,000 per year. Any amount of income that each spouse earns, up to the $2,000 limit, may be placed in an IRA. And, contributions to one's IRAs for the 1984 tax year may be paid until April 15, 1985.

However, the best time to deposit funds is in the beginning of the year. This allows depositors to take the fullest advantage of the tax-free compounding of their earnings.

Money may be withdrawn from an IRA at any time. However, since it is designed as a retirement account the Internal Revenue Service will demand a 10 percent tax penalty on the amount of the withdrawal unless the withdrawing person is at least 59½ years old. In addition, money withdrawn before one reaches 59½ will be considered part of taxable income for that year.

One-Of-A-Kind Designs At Gardenia

A Gardenia original

You'll never find two of the same outfits at the Gardenia boutique where owner Cheryl Jean Hamel takes pride in her unique designs.

Located at 90 Main St., the women's clothing and accessory shop has been in Andover for almost four years. Hamel previously owned and ran a shop on the North Shore before moving to town.

She works with assistant Stephanie Quine and both women have attended classes at the School of Fashion Design, in Boston. In addition, Hamel worked for six years managing an Ann Taylor shop. She said finding the right items for Gardenia makes her look far and wide.

And what Hamel doesn't find she and Quine design for their customers. The custom designing, said Hamel, is what makes Gardenia different from all of Andover's other shops.

"All of the original designs and custom-made clothing are exclusively sold at Gardenia," she said, "and never will you find two of the same."

Gardenia's collections features sports-wear, jewelry, belts, hose and shoes in a variety of contemporary styles.

Backstreet Business Booming This Year

A record breaking year for Backstreet Restaurant has ended and manager Christopher Fascione predicts another, saying, "the sky's the limit."

Fascione attributes changes in the 19 Essex Street restaurant to its success. He said renovations to the VIP room which increased seating in the dining and lounge areas as well as new menu selections have made Backstreet exciting for what he calls "even the more discriminating" diner.

Calling itself "a classy little restaurant in a classy little town," Backstreet has also introduced computers to the management of the business which Fascione said has increased productivity.

"All changes have been made with our patrons in mind," said the manager. "It is them that we are always concerned with."
